

Facts on Building Problems

Of Atomic Age Have Been Handed Down in Federal Government Report

By C. Yates McDaniel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The federal government today handed the nation a grim primer in construction problems of the atomic age.

It issued a report entitled "Damage from Atomic Explosion and Design of Protective Structures," dealing in matter-of-fact language with requirements for buildings which might have to undergo the tremendous force of a near A-bomb blast.

The best advice it could offer builders was to erect important structures as far from strategic areas as possible, or put them underground.

It called for dispersal of potential war plants, and said the most vital industries might have to bury themselves deep in caves and mines.

The report was prepared by the National Security Resources Board, for use by civil defense planners across the nation. It will be distributed by the NSRB to the governors of all the states.

Based on Hiroshima

The report's findings are based on studies made largely in Hiroshima, the first city ever to feel the terrible effect of an atomic explosion. It included no reference to later, more powerful A-bombs, nor did it mention the fearful hydrogen bomb now being developed.

Surveys made in Japan, it said, showed that heavily framed steel and reinforced concrete buildings offered the greatest resistance to atomic blast. Those which offered the weakest showing were shed-type structures with light frames and long, unsupported beams.

As for housing, the report well-constructed frame buildings stand up well against blast, but are vulnerable to fire.

It cautioned builders against all-brick walls that support floor beams and roofs. Such structures in Japan, the report said, "were engulfed by the oncoming pressure wave and collapsed completely."

Estimate Damage

Atomic and defense experts who compiled the report made their recommendations on the "assumption" that damage within one-half mile of the point immediately below an aerial explosion would be "so severe as to make protection of above ground facilities impractical within that area."

A bomb with twice the destructive force of the Hiroshima weapon would increase this area of virtually complete destruction about 60 per cent, the report said.

But outside this area, "a great deal can be done to minimize the damage" from air blast, earth shock, atomic rays and heat.

As a step in the right direction it called attention to building codes adopted in 11 western states concerned about possible earthquake damage.

Buildings Must Be Strong

Under these codes, buildings must be strong enough to resist horizontal forces varying from two per cent to 16 per cent of their vertical loads.

While "a great deal remains to be done before satisfactory design procedures can be established," the report said, it is possible now to offer some "tentative" suggestions.

It said large, new structures should be fire resistant and strengthened against blast and ground shock. Such buildings would have to be strong enough to stand against a horizontal wind exerting 90 pounds per square foot, and a wind blowing straight down with a force of 70 pounds per square foot—besides meeting the toughest requirements of the Pacific coast states.

Soft structural grade steel was recommended for reinforcing, because it bends without snapping as easily as hard steel.

The report estimated that this country has about 320,000,000 square feet of floor space available to vital industries in mines, many of which are reasonably near labor supply and transportation.

Edison Day

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith today proclaimed Feb. 11 as Thomas Edison day. It is the 103rd anniversary of the famous inventor.

Scene at Wedding Reception

Governor Forrest Smith of Missouri was a guest at the wedding of Nancy Lee Campbell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, and Mr. Burbank Young held Wednesday afternoon at the First Christian church and the reception later at the Sedalia Country club. Mrs. Smith accompanied the governor. He is seen talking with the bridegroom and his mother, Mrs. Rugar Young of Joliet, Ill., who is hidden from the camera. Doctor A. J. Campbell is in the center with Mrs. Chester A. Wright, 1500 West Broadway. The bride is at the extreme left. Mrs. Frank Monroe, 232 South Kentucky avenue, (front) is extending her hand to congratulate Mrs. Young. (Staff Photo)

Club Talks on Changes in Income Tax

Given Today by Internal Revenue Officers Here

Harry C. Polson and Lacy P. Belt, from the Office of Internal Revenue at the Sedalia Post Office, were speakers today at the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club. Mr. Polson explained some of the changes in the income tax regulations and answered questions most frequently asked concerning tax problems, stating that circumstances differ in individual cases. Mr. Belt talked on Social Security and told of the various types of exemptions. Following each talk an open discussion was held.

William Ward, program chairman, introduced the speaker and also led the singing.

The business meeting was presided over by Herbert Schrankler.

Harry Naugel gave a brief talk in the interest of the Boy Scout movement and explained the method to be used to procure a replica of the Statue of Liberty for the court house lawn.

Guests Present

Guests at the meeting were Al Ramsdale, St. Louis, who has a perfect attendance record of 17 years, guest of Capt. A. R. Rush and Daniel Belcher of Independence, who was a guest of Art Morgan.

Court Rules Child Actress is To Stay With Foster Parents

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Little Lora Lee Michel, 9, who complained her foster parents made her diet for $100-a-day movie roles, played her best—and probably last—dramatic scenes in a courthouse slugfest yesterday.

First she ran to the arms of Mrs. Lora Brunson, 35, crying, "I want my real mother."

Mrs. Brunson, Nederland, Tex., was seeking to regain the child's custody.

Then she was caught, sobbing in the middle of a tug-of-war in a courthouse corridor between Mrs. Brunson and Mrs. Lorraine Michel, 55, who brought Lora Lee here after adopting her in 1945. A flurry of kicking and punching followed, involving both principals and their friends.

Later, Lora Lee climbed up on Superior Judge A. A. Scott's lap, received a judicial pat, and exclaimed: "My sweet mother! My wonderful father!"

Marshall For SAAF Site

A resolution was passed by the city council of the city of Marshall on January 17 indicating the vital interest in selection of the Sedalia air base as the site of the proposed National Air Academy, and a copy of the resolution, with a letter from Mayor J. Leo Hayob has been mailed to the secretary of air, secretary of defense, chairman of the site selection board, representatives and senators from Missouri, Governor Forrest Smith, the Marshall Chamber of Commerce and the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

In his letter Mayor Hayob wrote: "It is realized that the evaluation of all the factors in the choice of a location is a problem of no small magnitude. The people of Marshall join with the citizens of a great many other communities over a wide area in requesting your most serious consideration of the Sedalia site."

Declares Soviet Air Force Is Strong

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A British expert says the Soviet air force is as strong tactically today as any in the world, but it would still be unable to carry the atom bomb to Washington or New York without advanced bases far from home.

Asher Lee, who was a wind commander in air intelligence during the war, made the statement in a book entitled "The Soviet Air Force," published today.

Russia, he said, has about 12,000 operational military planes—two air armies of about 1,000 each, each attached to six Soviet army headquarters.

This time she was referring to Mrs. Michel and her husband, A. H. Michel, a Schulenberg, Tex., cotton buyer.

For all her talent, however, (Lora Lee has appeared in 17 films.) the child is destined to leave Hollywood and live a normal life.

Judge Scott ruled Mrs. Brunson no longer had any right to the child, but suggested that the Michels take her out of the movies and go back to Texas. The foster parents quickly agreed.

Still pending is a complaint by Sheriff's juvenile officers that Mrs. Michel deprived Lora Lee of food to keep her weight down so she could play small girl parts in films. This is scheduled for trial March 21.

Movie Actress Wanda Hendrix was in court to testify for Mrs. Michel. Miss Hendrix was not involved in the corridor struggle, but was a spectator.

Expects State May Pay Part Election Cost

States Governor Referring to Special Gas Tax Election

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith speculated today the state may have to pay part of the cost of a special election April 4 on increasing the gasoline tax to four cents.

He said he will discuss with Kansas City and Jackson county officials tomorrow the possibility of having a test suit to determine whether the state has to pay any of the cost.

"If the Supreme Court held the state is liable, I would ask the legislature to make an appropriation for it," he said.

The special election expense is estimated to run around $275,000. That is based on a report by the state comptroller, Elmer L. Pigg, showing it cost $246,497 last year to submit the 1945 constitution to the voters at a special election five years ago. Since then, Pigg, noted, all costs have gone up.

Expect Light Vote

Discussing the question, the governor told his news conference today he does not expect a heavy vote April 4—"There never is in a special election."

Of course, he added, the size of the vote will depend on the election day weather.

Tomorrow's meeting (2 p. m.) was requested by David M. Proctor, city counselor for Kansas City. The governor said Jackson county, city officials and Kansas City election board officials are expected to attend.

Proctor has estimated it would cost $22,000 to pay election judges and clerks in Jackson county and Kansas City. And he thinks that's a state obligation because the special election comes on a day when no regular election is being held there.

When the special election falls on the same day as a regular school or local election, the attorney general has ruled the same judges and clerks may be used to supervise both elections.

In rural Missouri, the governor noted, the election cost is expected to be held down by a custom of having judges and clerks serve for nothing. He said they usually do that for a special election.

So far about 25 counties have indicated they will follow that custom, he said.

Churchill Hits Britain's Labor Regime

Attlee Making Campaign Tour By Automobile.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(AP)— Winston Churchill blasted Britain's labor government today as an ungrateful socialist regime kept alive by "dollops of dollars" from capitalist America. Laborite Prime Minister Attlee called Churchill's oratorical assaults upon him "wild, whirling words."

The Conservative leader warmed up the campaign for the national elections Feb. 23 by holding out a "promise to austerity-weary Britons of an early end to gasoline rationing if the Conservatives are victorious at the polls."

Churchill, swinging around the country in a hard-biting campaign tour, gave a conservative party rally at Devonport this picture of Attlee's government:

"They seek the dollars, they beg the dollars, they bluster for the dollars, they gobble the dollars, but in the whole of their 8,000-word manifesto (election platform) they cannot say 'Thank you' for the dollars."

Attlee Comment

Attlee, in his quiet way, said that Churchill once said the vehicle of state needed both engine and brake, and added: "The trouble is that the Conservative brake has always been on during these years. We have managed to keep our off."

In Cardiff Churchill told an audience of 15,000 Welshmen the Labor party has resorted to deliberate lying in the hope of influencing the vote. Referring to this speech, Attlee told an audience on the outskirts of Birmingham:

"There are wild whirling words, wild accusations of extravagance and wanton waste. The conservatives have failed to prove their case."

At Taunton last night Churchill said he had fulfilled "even the wildest dream of my youth" and had no political ambitions in running for office again.

Fee Keeps Him Working

The only thing that keeps him working, said the 55-year-old Conservative party leader, is a great fear "for the state into which our country is getting."

He said he didn't have anything against the labor party but he had a "very great profound loathing for the doctrines of socialism." Churchill and Attlee are stumping for their parties in preparation for the Feb. 23 elections, which promise to be extremely close, according to most forecasts.

Thus far, the two party leaders have shown that their political tactics are as widely different as are their doctrines.

In contrast to Churchill's scathing oratory, Attlee has spoken in a homey fashion about his government's record and the Benefits he says it offers to Britons in the next five years if reelected.

Carried Out Promise

Speaking at Oldburg and Birmingham yesterday, Attlee said "No doubt we have made mistakes, but we have carried out the promises we made to the people. We have been true to the principles on which we were elected."

He is touring the country by automobile with his wife driving, Churchill is getting about by special railroad coach.

Churchill is scheduled to speak today in the same town with Laborite Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan, the fire-eating Welshman who has been the target for some of the Tory leader's bitterest scorn.

Churchill will speak in Devonport, the royal navy base south of here, this afternoon (9:15 a. m. EST) on behalf of his 38-year-old son Randolph.

Bevan, who runs the nation's huge free medicine scheme, will appear there tonight (2:30 p. m. EST) to support Labor M. P. Michael Foot, whom Randolph Churchill hopes to unseat.

Admit Robbery of Billy Rose's Home

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Two men today admitted taking part in the $25,000 jewel robbery of showman Billy Rose's home.

Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, who disclosed the arrests as the climax to a three-state manhunt, said three other men also are being sought in the theft.

Earlier the loot, at first valued at $100,000, was said to include several valuable fur pieces, but O'Brien revealed today that only gems were taken. The jewels belonged to Rose's comely wife, former Olympic swim champion Eleanor Holm.

O'Brien said one of the men sought for questioning was William Lalamo, 22, a friend of the Roses' Negro butler, James McDonald. He said McDonald and Lalamo had an engagement at the rose home the night of the robbery.

Industry Tightens Its Belt; Railroads Juggle Schedules

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Industry tightened its belt today as soft coal peace talks collapsed in Washington.

More steel companies announced cutbacks.

The nation's railroads rushed to juggle train schedules. Hundreds of runs must be cancelled, under an interstate commerce commission ruling before 11:59 p. m. (local time) Friday.

These were some of the developments:

1. Inland Steel company at Chicago said its coal supplies "have dwindled to the critical point." It announced the shutdown of a second blast furnace.

2. Republic Steel Corporation said it will close one of its Youngstown (Ohio) district blast furnaces immediately. The firm previously had announced shutting down two furnaces in Cleveland.

3. The coal shortage started to hit small schools. At Delphi, Ind., which has a population of about 2,500, schools were closed.

Industries which use coal kept a close watch on developments.

In Detroit, General Motors corporation cancelled all plans for Saturday work and any scheduled overtime because of what it called "the emergency in the coal situation."

Ford Motor company reported no change in its overtime plans but a spokesman said "we are keeping a day to day watch on the situation."

The railroad industry didn't have to watch the situation. It knew it faced a crisis. A Pennsylvania railroad spokesman said his road had "about 11 days" supply of coal on hand.

The Interstate Commerce commission ordered that railroads make 25 percent cut in their coal burning freight services. And they were told to cut coal burning passenger services to 50 percent of the services operated last December 1.

A coal operator who asked that his name not be used said he believed further cuts in industry-at-large would materialize almost immediately because there's no sign of immediate peace in the drawn-out dispute.

Two Operating Unions Want 40 Hour Week

Issues in the Dispute Are Almost A Year Old Now

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Members of two operating railway unions have voted to strike for a 40-hour week, the unions announced today.

A spokesman, however, said that does not mean a strike is imminent. He said that under procedures of the national railway mediation act a strike could not possibly occur before late spring.

The two unions are the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors. Together they represent a total union membership of about 200,000 railroad workers. The spokesman said 95.5 percent of them approved a strike. No strike date has been set and possibly will not be before the end of this week or the first of next week, the spokesman said.

Issues in the dispute, almost a year old, concern adoption of the 40-hour week and certain other wage and working benefits. The demands were served on the roads March 15, 1949 and direct bargaining conferences between the disputants began Sept. 22, 1949.

No Progress

The union spokesman said "no progress was made in approaching a settlement. Throughout the long direct negotiations it was quite apparent that the railroads were disinclined to adopt voluntarily the 40-hour work week for men in yard service or to voluntarily put into effect certain other wage and working improvements requested."

"The attitude on the part of management seemed to be that it would be time enough to do so when compelled to."

The national (railway) mediation board took jurisdiction in the dispute on January 16 and has been meeting since without progress. The next steps in the dispute are for the unions to set a strike date and for President Truman to appoint an emergency board to investigate and report to him.

Creation of the emergency panel automatically freezes the situation until a report is made to the president and for 30 days thereafter.

T. O. Williams Retires After 36 Years With Dorn-Cloney

T. O. Williams has retired. For 36 years T. Omer Williams, who is known to his friends as T. O. Williams, the first spell of sickness he had ever had. He was seriously ill for several days, then began to get better, but he won't be able to go back again on his truck. He is going to take it easy now and enjoy the retirement after so many years of faithful service.

New friends and old have missed him on his route, with one childhood schoolmate saying: "I miss him going by yelling, 'Hello, Janie!' it was always so good to be called by my first name."

No Time to Be Lonesome

Mr. Williams, with his wife and daughter, Miss Mary Jane Williams, resides at 600 South Washington avenue. His son, David, is owner of a theater in King City and like all grandfathers is proud, too, of his young grandson, Jimmy.

T. O. has found that this retiring isn't so bad either. Those friends he has made in his daily rounds have been dropping in to see him in almost a steady stream and he hasn't yet had time to get lonesome.

Important Events In World News

FRANFURT, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Klaus Fuchs, Britain's top atom scientist arrested for passing atomic secrets to a foreign power, has the brain of a giant, but the naive soul of a child," his father said today. Interviewed by telephone, 75-year-old professor Emil Fuchs said in a trembling voice:

"I am convinced my son is not guilty of the charges against him. I have never said that my son was a Communist. He was a freedom-loving opponent of Nazism."

Klaus Fuchs is due to go on trial in Bow Street court, London, tomorrow on two charges that he supplied Anglo-American atom secrets to a foreign nation in 1945 and 1947.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—An American aviation expert said today Russia is ahead of the United States both in aircraft production and the number of military planes it has in service.

However, said John F. Victory, executive secretary of the national advisory committee for aeronautics (NACA), this country isn't disturbed by that situation because it feels that it has the better planes.

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Nationalist heavy bombers smashed the American owned power plant and the Kiangnan dockyards in Red Shanghai today.

It was the third straight day of air raids for Shanghai and the first of the mass attacks the Nationalists warned 10 Chinese cities yesterday to expect.

Two ships in port received direct hits. One was a 5,000 ton freighter and the other a 3,000 ton vessel, an official announcement said.

ROME, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Communist-led labor unions stopped a 15 minute work stoppage throughout Italy today in memory of six workers killed in clashes with police January 9.

At Modena, the Po Valley industrial town where the 6 died, the work stoppage lasted two hours. Workers paraded in a demonstration and deposited flowers at the gate of an iron foundry where the clashes occurred.

To Work On Coal Report

Fact Finding Board Ends Its Hearings; To Report To White House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—President Truman's fact-finding board ended its hearings on the coal dispute today and went to work on a report to the White House.

The members said they hoped to make the report by Saturday—two days ahead of the deadline set when they took on the job.

Once the president gets the report he can ask Attorney General McGrath to seek a court order for the 370,000 striking coal miners to go back to work.

The board cut off its hearings with an announcement by Chairman David L. Cole that the board's observations during fruitless direct bargaining negotiations yesterday had given it needed information about the issues.

John L. Lewis, leader of the miners, and the coal operators talked issues for nearly eight hours yesterday under prodding from the board. But they couldn't get to an agreement.

Report by Monday

The board is under instructions to report to Mr. Truman by Monday at the latest.

Cole said he thought the board-sponsored bargaining sessions would be helpful to the union and the operators in eventually reaching a contract.

"The general atmosphere is considerably cleared," he said.

Cole said that the board had "learned many interesting and cogent facts and circumstances about the dispute." He added:

"The issues on which the parties are deadlocked now are crystallized and the present positions on these issues are considerably clarified."

Cole said "the posture" in which the negotiations left the dispute was "not too unfavorable."

Prefer as They Are

"We prefer to leave them in that position," he said.

He never did say just what were the points of difference or what seemed to be the big snag in reaching an agreement.

The parties "approached agreement" on several issues in yesterday's talks, he said. But he would not indicate which issues these were or which ones caused the final collapse.

With almost no coal being produced, the pinch was tightened over the country.

By order of the Interstate Commerce Commission coal-burning locomotives was cut to 50 per cent of normal for passenger trains and 75 per cent for freight effective at midnight tomorrow. The railroads estimated they had an average 15-day supply of coal on hand.

Furlough Ordered

Chanute air force base in Illinois, with only six days' coal supply left, ordered 9,000 men on a three-week furlough starting Friday.

In Detroit, dwindling fuel supplies caused general motors to cancel all plans for Saturday work and scheduled overtime.

Lewis, during yesterday's stormy session of the inquiry board, had declared a settlement "possible" in a few hours if genuine bargaining were undertaken. But coal operators were not hopeful that agreement could be reached.

Southern smilax, ivory colored gladioli and snapdragons, burning cathedral candles in smilax entwined candelabra formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Nancy Lee Campbell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert James Campbell, 319 East Broadway, and Mr. Burbank Young, son of Mrs. Rugar Young, of Joliet, Ill. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. John Young of Chicago, a cousin of the bridegroom at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Christian church.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. H. O. Foraker, organist, played: "I Love Thee" by Greig; "Where E're You Walk" by Handel; "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" Saint-Seans; "O, Perfect Love," Burleigh and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

As the bridal party entered the sanctuary the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played and for the recessional, "Mendelssohn's Wedding March." During the ceremony, Mrs. Foraker played the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria."

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of antique ivory satin designed with fitted waist and a net yoke outlined with a rosepoint lace bertha. The full skirt lengthened into a formal train and her fingertip veil of illusion net cascaded from a coronet of braided ivory satin. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow carnations, and her only ornament was a heirloom bracelet.

As maid of honor the bride chose her cousin, Miss Betty Stafford and as bridesmaid, Miss Maurine Parsons, Miss Stafford and Miss Parsons wore identical gowns of gold taffeta faille fashioned with sweetheart neckline, standup collars, fitted bodices and skirts gathered to bands about the hips. The waists were buttoned down the back, by tiny buttons of the same material. They carried bouquets of ivy and yellow carnations and in their hair wore bands of the gold material and flowers matching their bouquets. They wore elbow length mitts of the same gold material and formed points over the hands.

Mr. Donald E. Charles, of St. Louis, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom served as best man.

Ushers were Mr. Albert James Campbell, Jr., of Sedalia, brother of the bride, Mr. Richard M. Rundquist, of Columbia; Mr. Stanley B. Parsons, Marcelline; Mr. William D. Askin, of Spokane, Wash.; Mr. James B. Hitt and Mr. George Rush.

Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, was attired in a dress of dusty pink shade with which she wore a navy and pink hat. Her corsage was of iris. Mrs. Young, mother of the bridegroom, wore a French blue dress with pink hat and her corsage was of roses.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was given by the bride's parents at the Sedalia Country club. Palms and bouquets of spring flowers were used as decorations and the bride's table was centered with a wedding cake encircled with smilax and pastel colored sweetpeas. On either side were lighted white tapers in crystal candelabra.

The bride was born and reared in Sedalia, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Estill, pioneers of this vicinity. She has been attending the University of Missouri where she is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Young also attended the University of Missouri and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. During the war he was a pilot in the Marine Corps in the South Pacific. He is now an instructor of science in the high school in Mount Vernon where the couple will reside.

For traveling Mrs. Young wore a navy blue suit. Among the out of town guests were: Mrs. Rugar Young, mother of the bridegroom, and Miss Christine Jensen, cousin of the bride.

groom, both of Joliet, Ill.; Governor and Mrs. Forrest Smith, of Jefferson City; Miss Mary Jane Truman of Grandview; Mrs. Uel Shobe, aunt of the bride, and Mr. Shobe, of Clinton; Mrs. Louis Howe, cousin of the bride, and Dr. Howe, Brentwood; Mr. Harold Campbell, of Independence; Mrs. Mary Wade and Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Dayton, of Kansas City; Mrs. Weatherston, house mother for Alpha Chi Omega sorority at Columbia; Mrs. Edith Craig Baker, house mother of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon, at Columbia; Mrs. Ray Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills, Clinton; Dr. Gerald Breckenridge, Columbia; Dr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Marshall; Dr. and Mrs. Ira Lockwood, Kansas City; Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Hughes, Clinton; Mrs. Leslie Green, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. George Rush, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Patterson Baine of McBaine.

Miss Nancy Le Campbell, who was married to Mr. Frank Burbank Young on Wednesday afternoon has been honored with several parties and showers.

On Thursday night of last week Miss Maurine Parsons, 901 South Osage avenue, entertained with a miscellaneous shower.

Valentine decorations and arrangements of red and white flowers were used about the home and favors were heart-shaped red satin boxes filled with Valentine candies.

The bride found her gifts from clues in verses written on heart-shaped cards.

Guests included the bride, her mother, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Miss Louise Van Dyne, Miss Betty Stafford, Miss Ruthann Knight, and Miss Loyce Wilson.

Miss Parsons was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. K. Parsons.

A kitchen shower in honor of Miss Campbell was given Friday night by Mrs. Milton Klein, of Versailles, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hulse, 720 West Broadway.

Bridge was played during the evening with awards going to Miss Campbell, Miss Maurine Parsons and Miss Ruthann Knight.

Across the living room was a clothes line on which were little verses of poetry telling where the gifts were hidden about the home, held on the line with clothespins. There was even a clothes basket ready for the gifts, as the bride found them.

A dessert course was served at card tables each centered with an arrangement of spring flowers carrying out the color scheme of yellow and white.

Invited guests included the bride, her mother, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Miss Anne Hurley, Miss Betty Stafford, Miss Maurine Parsons, Miss Loyce Wilson, Mrs. George Thompson, Miss Selma Bloess, Mrs. Joe Potts, Miss Ruthann Knight, Mrs. Milton Klein, Mrs. A. J. Campbell and Mrs. Eugene Walker.

Louise Van Dyne, Miss Ruthann Knight, Miss Maurine Parsons, Miss Markie Walker, Miss Uel Shobe, of Clinton, aunt of the bride, Miss Barbara Roberts, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Joe Potts and Miss Betty Stafford.

On Wednesday night of last week Miss Markie Walker, of the Dean apartments, entertained with a bathroom shower for Miss Campbell, at the Sedalia Country club.

A dessert course was served carrying out the yellow and white color scheme of the decorations, with a centerpiece of yellow and white flowers used on the table. On either side were yellow burning tapers.

On the mantel were gifts for the bride all wrapped in yellow and white, the colors she plans to use in her bathroom.

After the bride had opened her gifts the evening was sent in playing bridge and canasta.

Guests were: Miss Louise Van Dyne, Miss Anne Hurley, Miss Betty Stafford, Miss Maurine Parsons, Miss Loyce Wilson, Mrs. George Thompson, Miss Selma Bloess, Mrs. Joe Potts, Miss Ruthann Knight, Mrs. Milton Klein, Mrs. A. J. Campbell and Mrs. Eugene Walker.

Senator McMahon Urges Propaganda Campaign to Russian People to Prevent Atomic War

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Quotes from a speech by Senator McMahon of Connecticut: "Building the hydrogen bomb does not promise security for the United States. It only promises averting for a few months or years well-nigh certain catastrophe. . . . Our diplomacy must tap the roots of our imagination and ingenuity. . . . We may choose between moving heaven and earth to stop the atomic armaments race . . . or imitating our totalitarian rivals. We must blame ourselves for failing to bring our message of peace to the people behind the iron curtain. . . . We must not only crack the iron curtain and gain the ear of the Russian people, we must also gain the ear of the people on the near side of the iron curtain. . . . We spend $29,000,000 a year on what we call the Voice of America, though it should be called the whisper of America. Yet we spend over $30,000,000 a year to advertise cosmetics. . . . Listlessness and mediocrity have characterized our attempts to sell what America is, what America wants and what America intends. . . . I favor printing millions of leaflets for world-wide circulation explaining a new United States proposal on atomic peace. . . . We should publicly and repeatedly challenge the Kremlin to make public the terms of our proposal to newspaper readers and radio listeners inside Russia. . . . This is a time for soul-searching, for launching a moral crusade for peace which alone can save us." (Date of McMahon's speech, Feb. 2, 1950.)

Quotes from this column—July and August, 1948—"When one nation is in trouble with another nation, wise leaders concentrate on the weakest point in the other nation's armor. The weakest point in Russia's armor is her own people. . . . We must go over the Kremlin's head to the Russian people in order to convince them that the United States is composed of people who do not want war. . . . During the war we spent millions of dollars dropping leaflets, cakes of soap, packages of tea over nations. It shortened the war and saved lives. How many more lives could be saved by preventing war in the first place by going over the heads of the Kremlin and getting to the Russian people!

Balloons to Russia

"Let American planes over Germany drop weather balloons which the wind currents would float over Russia carrying friendship messages. Imagine the difficulty the Kremlin would have in explaining away these balloons! . . . During the war, the Japanese took advantage of weather currents to float balloons all the way across the Pacific carrying explosives. They were balloons of death. We can reverse the process with balloons of friendship.

"F. W. Danner of Akron, Ohio, has offered to print 1,000,000 copies of a message to the Russian people without charge. Percy Smith of Los Angeles writes that he would be glad to supply bars of soap imprinted with a message. The Eagle Rubber Company of Ashland, Ohio, International Latex of Dover, Del., and the Dewey-Almy Company of Cambridge, Mass., have offered to supply 100,000 balloons free. The Ingersoll Watch Company has offered to contribute Mickey Mouse wrist watches—over which the Russian people go crazy. . . . These are just a few of the patriotic Americans who want to help their country prevent war.

"One of the surest ways to prevent war is to show the Russian people that we, the American people, aren't what the 14 men in the Kremlin say we are. As long as the Kremlin knows that 130,000,000 Russians will unflinchingly obey the order to march—without congressional debate, without criticism, and without knowing anything about the issues—then war can always be just around the corner." (Date of columns, July 21 through Aug. 18, 1948.)

General Bradley Enthused

OFFICIAL REACTION—Simultaneous with writing the above columns, this writer called on the branches of the three military services and the State Department. Here is what they said:

Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff, was the most enthusiastic. He said: "If we can get to the Russian people, I can go fishing." He promised full cooperation—if the State Department approved.

Secretary of Air Stuart Symington was equally enthusiastic, promised full cooperation with B-29s if the State Department gave an OK.

Chief of naval operations Admiral Denfeld was mildly interested.

The State Department was not interested. Assistant Secretary George Allen, in charge of the Voice of America and of propaganda activities, feared that friendship messages to the Russian people would be misinterpreted. Our most successful policy with Russia, he indicated, was the diplomatic straight-arm, a warning that if the Soviet overstepped a certain line she risked war. Friendship messages to the Russian people might undercut that policy.

Later, I called on George Marshall, then secretary of state, discussed the problem of getting to the Russian people. I suggested that he or President Truman address a radio appeal to Stalin that the iron curtain be lifted, permitting friendship between the Russian and the American people. While that appeal would be rebuffed, I pointed out that millions of copies of the speech could be printed in the Russian, Czech, Polish, Bulgarian and other iron curtain languages to be circulated in those countries, and undermine the belligerent propaganda of the Moscow radio.

General Marshall Is Dissuaded

Secretary Marshall agreed, said he was considering an appeal somewhat along these lines when the United States opened in New York that fall.

But the appeal was never made. Possibly the conventional diplomats got hold of Marshall, persuaded him to stick to the ruts of routine diplomacy.

That was in the late summer of 1948. Since then President Truman has announced that Russia has the secret of the atom bomb, the FBI has made it known that Russia has had access to the secrets of the hydrogen bomb, and the need for revolutionary diplomacy is all the more urgent.

But—when President Truman announced that he was giving the green light to the hydrogen bomb, he missed one of the propaganda opportunities of a lifetime. He could have gone on the air with a shortwave broadcast to the people of the entire world, appealing for peace, and had millions of copies of that appeal printed in a score of languages.

Instead he issued an abrupt, almost peremptory announcement, stating in stiff, official language that the United States had decided to build the hydrogen bomb. In brief, he passed on to the Kremlin a golden opportunity to call us militaristic and to appeal to the world for peace.

Stronger UN Isn't Possible Without Russia's Co-operation

By Bruce Blossat

President Truman has been asked by 150 distinguished Americans to help strengthen the United Nations so it can bring the world arms race to a halt. In a letter to the President, these citizens pointed out that 22 U. S. senators and 104 representatives favor a Congressional resolution to give the UN more power.

This idea of meeting the problems of peace and war by increasing international authority has captured the imagination of many earnest people in and out of Washington. Proposals range all the way from moderate changes in the UN to sweeping world government.

We certainly must applaud the aims of these people. Plainly they are deeply concerned that peace be preserved, and they are willing to expend their own effort to that end.

But almost without exception their proposals suffer one major weakness: A stronger UN or a world government is not possible without the co-operation and support of the Soviet Union. For surely no sensible proponent of these plans believes the cause of peace would be well served by leaving Russia out of the key world organization.

Yet any realistic appraisal immediately throws grave doubt on the chances of drawing Russia into an arrangement that would mean less national power and more world authority. Experts on the UN often put it this way: If we could get the kind of agreement with Russia we need for such a plan, we could find necessary accord to make the existing UN workable.

In other words, there's nothing so drastically wrong with the present setup that couldn't be largely cured by understanding between Russia and the other great powers. No world council, no agency for peace can be successful unless there is basic co-operation among all the powerful nations.

No one sitting in on the UN's founding at San Francisco would have pretended for a moment that the UN they were creating would work with the great powers at swords' points. It may well be that the UN could be more strongly organized. But obviously that change is a secondary step, not a primary one.

The first order of business is to find a ground for better understanding among all the big nations. Only when that is achieved will Russia—and the others, too, for that matter—be willing to yield national sovereignty to a higher world order.

They can't be compelled to do this; they must want to do it.

Let's Eradicate the 'Litter-bug'

The country's big cities have so many worries these days it seems unfair to saddle them with any more. Yet the "litter-bug" is doing just that.

He's the fellow scatters a trail of waste paper wherever he goes—gum and candy wrappers, old newspapers, package wrappings, and what not. You need no FBI agent to trace his movements along city streets, in stations, buses, trains, parks, amusement centers.

Periodically, the press in some of these big towns get excited about the matter. Then follows a burst of articles and pictures deploring the indescribable litter. Occasionally a city responds by improving its trash collecting methods but usually the outcome is merely a lightly-given but poorly-kept promise to "do something."

Recently New York City, one of the world's worst suffers from the litter-bug, decided to try a new angle. It concluded it wasn't being fair to its citizens, that it wasn't providing enough receptacles for their burdensome trash. So it spotted 4800 extra wire baskets around a "test area" in midtown Manhattan to see whether people would be inspired to keep house better if they had the chance.

The results haven't been too encouraging. The experiment has been complicated somewhat by the fact that New Yorkers have made off with about 300 of the baskets.

Perhaps all our cities do need more ample facilities for individual trash disposal. But the real difficulty, it seems to us, is that most urban dwellers don't feel a genuine sense of responsibility toward their city. They just don't care. It never occurs to them that dropping a paper in the street is a selfish, unthinking act that amounts to an affront to other citizens. But that's what is.

Cities will be really clean when the litter-bug learns to hunt for the trash basket even if it's a block away.

Rom. 8:1-2; II Cor. 3:16-18; Gal. 5:1

RELEASED AND RELEASING

You come now to the final step of your ladder. (9) Release. This release is in two directions. First, there is release within. All your tied-up conditions—your inhibitions, your fears, your guilts—are now gone. You have now entered abundant living. But, second, there is release in another direction. You are released to serve. You are released from inhibitions to—fears to folks; from inhibitions to inspiration, from guilts to guidance. The doors now turn outward. From being an introvert, you become an extrovert—not entirely, of course, for in reality you are now an introvert-extrovert, an ambivert. You turn inward, no longer to mull around in useless regret over failure, but to get quiet in "The Trysting Place," so that communion with Him will recoup the soul and make it adequate for the next step—extroversion. For that communion ends in commission. Life is now outgoing, positive, affirmative, contributive.

A woman who had gone through the ways of the world and had come out at zero put her experience this way in a letter: "I've been full of questions and doubts and wonderings; then all of a sudden everything falls into its place like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. And when this happens, I want to tell someone. I want to say, 'Why, there is no question about the reality of this. It's there; it is; it's a fact.' This letter has the authentic notes in it: (1) "Full of questions, doubts, wonderings." (2) "Everything falls into its place like a jigsaw puzzle." (3) "I want to tell someone."

Release is the last stage—rightly so. The doors of the unreleased person all turn inward; the doors of the released person turn outward. His goodness now is good for something. And nothing, nothing is more absolutely sound, psychologically, than just that. Relief comes through release.

You are a released person—released to follow the unfolding will of God.

O God, my Father, how can I express the gratitude my happy soul would tell? "O for a thousand tongues to sing my great Redeemer's praise." Now help me to tell my gratitude not merely in ecstatic praise, but in quiet ways of human helpfulness. Help me to help the next person I meet, and so on through this day. Amen.

How to Get The Family Off To Good Start in Morning

One of a wife's most important jobs is getting a family off to a pleasant start in the morning. A bad start is likely to turn the whole family into grumpy individuals all day long.

It isn't a hard job, but it does take considerable foresight and planning.

A few tips, then, for eliminating some of that early-morning rush and discord.

Check the day before to see that the head of the family's clothes are in order. The husband who discovers at the last minute that the suit he wants to wear isn't back from the cleaners or that a button is off his last clean shirt isn't going to bring a very cheerful face to the breakfast table.

Plan breakfasts as carefully as the other meals of the day, using just as much imagination to make them varied and to have them attractively served.

Avoid Last-Minute Rush
Allow enough time for the family to get off without rushing or getting in each other's way.

See that the children have their clothes laid out the night before—and also anything they have to take to school. Morning isn't the time to look for Junior's reader or search for Susie's galoshes.

Respect your family's early-morning dispositions. If Papa wants to read the paper in silence—let him read. If he hates to be asked for money just as he is going out the door, settle your finances the night before.

Set the right atmosphere by being calm and cheerful yourself—and sending your family off with a smile.

If it seems like a lot of trouble just remember that the mood you send your family off in each morning has an awful lot to do with the peace of your home.

"How about dat? Ten thousand dollars or a year in jail! I'm worth ten grand a year in hock!"

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY: Alice Pine, secretary to Muriel Halleck, a writer, has suspected Brent, Muriel's husband, of being cruel to his four-year-old adopted son. There is much gossip about Brent, none good, and Alice is not sure she likes him at all. But one evening Brent surprises her while she is taking a night swim. In a long talk, Brent says he is taking a job away from Grosvenor Point, where the Hallecks live, as art director of an advertising agency. He asks Alice to watch over Rick while he is away. Alice thinks this is a strange request and is surprised by Brent's solemn manner. Then, suddenly Brent takes her in his arms. Alice protests, and Brent apologizes and then leaves her. As Alice walks toward the house, Muriel steps into view. Muriel does not seem upset by what she saw but Alice is filled with a feeling of guilt as she tries to explain.

XVI

"Oh, for heaven's sake!" Muriel slapped Alice lightly on her bare forearm. "Don't be so serious, my dear. It is funny and you are you. The guy—my husband—merely puts his arm around you, so now you're beating yourself up. Well, stop it."

"A-all right. If you're not too annoyed."

"My goodness!" Muriel Halleck seemed to lose interest. "Why should I be annoyed? I'm over the sophomore stage. What's that you've got there? Cigarettes? Give me one and forget this nonsense."

Alice Pine extended the package, struck a match. Muriel's head bent over her cupped hands.

"Now let's go up to the house," she said. "But, for the record, my meeting broke up early. La Tremayne, who's usually indestructible, had a headache. And when I found nobody home here, I took a walk. So my spying wasn't premeditated."

"I never thought it was," said Alice. "And I still feel like a heel."

"Alice, I told you to stop it. Come on, now! Think of something else to say."

Alice made an effort. "He was telling me about this job in Providence."

been inordinate from the beginning. She had been utterly unable—Alice twisted on the bed, pressing bare toes against the footboard—to regard Brent Halleck passively.

That was how it had been. And there was some psychological theory that dislike—hatred even—and love were actually akin, needing only some slight adjustment of the delicate scale to throw the balance one way or the other. But could she, Alice Pine, hitherto normal and sensible, be falling in love with a man capable of definite cruelty?

And yet the idea of cruelty didn't square with Brent's low-voiced, sincere-sounding request for her to see to Rick.

But nothing squared. And Brent was a creature of moods. Tonight he had revealed a softer one. But he could summon others. She thought again of his face, black with anger, confronting the early Sloan during the tree episode.

At that point sleep actively mocked her. She got up, lit a cigarette, and a solution seemed to come.

SHE would pack tonight. Then in the morning she would have an honest showdown. And not with Brent. With Muriel.

"Because I can't stay here," she encouraged her own idea. "Feeling as I—I think I do."

But a more lucid interval followed. And she saw that she could not walk out of Grosvenor Point without looking like a presumptuous fool. Brent had done nothing more than to infer that, under other circumstances, he might possibly have been fond of her. On the strength of which, plus her own nebulous indeterminate feelings, she was considering a showdown with Muriel.

Well! Tonight, Muriel had laughed at her. But if she went through with this program tomorrow, Muriel would hoot.

Alice stumped out the cigarette with fingers that trembled slightly. She had to come close, alarmingly close, to making a complete idiot of herself.

Nonetheless, it was just as well that Brent Halleck was leaving.

The Doctor Says—

People With Blood Vessel Disease Shouldn't Smoke

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

I have never seen any claims that tobacco smoking promotes good health. There is vigorous debate on how harmful smoking may or may not be but no one claims that it strengthens the muscles, improves the "wind" or does anything else of a health-building nature.

Nicotine is probably the principal ingredient of tobacco smoke which may exert an unfavorable effect. As a pure drug, nicotine is a powerful poison. When burned as it is in smoking, the harmful effect of the nicotine is certainly lessened.

Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous linings of the breathing passages. Coated tongue in heavy smokers is the rule. The throat and larynx, or voice box, are irritated by heavy smoking and smokers frequently have a slight cough and hoarseness.

Damages Appetite
Smoking interferes with the appetite. The person who stops heavy smoking suddenly tends to gain weight merely because he eats more. People with ulcers of the stomach are often advised not to smoke. Smoking increases the acid secretions of the stomach.

Washington, named?

A—Mt. Rainier was named after the British Admiral, Pete Rainier, who figured in the American Revolution. It was once an active volcano, but has long been extinct.

Does smoking shorten life? This is highly debatable. One of the most authoritative studies of this subject comes to the conclusion that in men, at least, smokers after the age of 40 have a lower average expectation of life than do non-smokers.

Different people are affected differently by tobacco smoking. Those who show definitely unfavorable effects, or have diseases in which tobacco smoking is pretty well known to be harmful, should give up the habit.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Rules 'Gas' Tax Election April 4 To Be Legal

Judge Blair In Opinion Assembly Within Rights

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 9.—(P)—So far as circuit judge Sam C. Blair is concerned, a special referendum election on a four cent Missouri gasoline tax can be held legally on April 4.

He ruled Wednesday night the legislature acted within its rights when it set a date by resolution two months ago on a law doubling the present two cent tax.

He dismissed a suit brought by a Republican representative who sought to stop the election on the grounds the legislature should have passed a bill instead of a resolution—if it had the power to interfere at all.

Bertram W. Tremayne, Jr., attorney for Rep. George E. Bohrer (R) of St. Louis county, said the decision would be appealed immediately to the state supreme court.

Judge Blair told Tremayne he had no doubt that the supreme court would give an early decision because "this is an important matter."

Judge Blair held there is nothing in the 1945 constitution to bar the legislature from setting a special election date by resolution. That is, when the people already have called the referendum by filing referendum petitions.

He noted that the constitution requires the legislature to pass a bill in the regular way when it wants to refer one of its laws to the people on its own motion.

"As I read (it)," he said, "if the legislature starts a referendum it must proceed by bill. But in another section the legislature is given express authority to call a special election and no limitation is placed on that authority."

Tremayne had argued that when the people demanded a chance to vote on the tax increase, the whole matter was out of the legislature's hands.

Even if the legislature had any right to step in after the referendum petitions were filed, he argued, it acted illegally because it didn't follow the constitutional requirements for passing a bill.

Assistant Attorney General Gilbert Lamb took another view. He said the courts could not interfere even if the legislature clearly had used illegal procedure. He said that would invade legislative power.

Judge Blair challenged that. "I cannot agree," he said, "that the legislature can proceed as invalidly as it cares to do."

But, he added, the constitution is silent on the procedure for calling a special election.

Tremayne, seeking an injunction to halt the election, said $300,000 of public funds would be wasted if the election is held, then found to be invalid because of faulty legislative procedure.

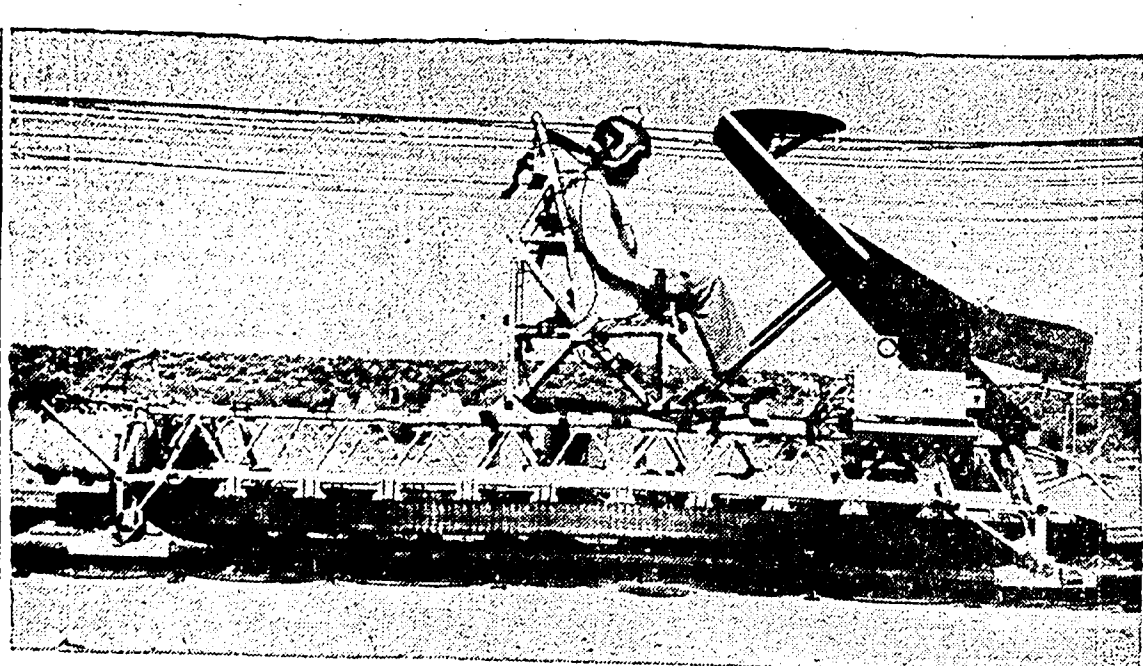

Sounds Easy, But It's Not

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(P)—At 7:45 p. m., on the night of Feb. 16, a green light will flash in the National Guard armory here, and 550 waiters will dash out.

Thereupon, 5,200 diners, faithful Democrats who are affluent enough to shell out $100 a plate, will start chomping away at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

It sounds easy, written that way.

But President Truman, who

ROCKET-SLED TESTS SIMULATE AIR CRASH—His muscles tense, an Air Force volunteer awaits the firing of rockets that will speed his sled along the test tracks at 100-miles-an-hour. The sled will be halted with a shock like that experienced in an airplane's crash landing. The rocket-sled, installed at Muroc, Cal., is designed to test the theory, among others, that air crash casualties would be greatly reduced if passengers were seated backwards. A camera is mounted on front of the carriage to record reactions of the test passenger.

only has to make the main speech, has a snap compared with the chore of getting the dinner arranged.

At least, that's the view of Mayflower and Statler hotel officials, who are epitomizing the catering job for the big feed.

The hotel people have a heap of statistics and assorted data to prove their point.

To begin with, there's the geography problem.

The armory is a monster of a building in Southeast Washington. The food will have to be cooked in the hotels, four miles away.

Then there's this additional worry: The night before the banquet Georgetown and George Washington universities will be using the armory for basketball.

Two To Face Murder Charges

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Feb. 9.—(AP)—First degree murder charges were filed Wednesday against 4 Arkansas convicts who killed a trusty guard and escaped from Tucker prison farm near here last Dec. 31.

Prosecuting Attorney Henry Smith, who filed the murder charges here, said he also filed charges of grand larceny and escape against the four.

The men, each charged separately on three counts, are: James Perry Williams, 29, Sheridan, Ark.; Jack Rheurik, 22, Sapulpa, Okla.; David Dyer, 30, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Odus Eaton, 25, of Stillwell, Okla.

A combined posse of state police, county, and special officers captured the quartet in a five day manhunt following the escape. The four broke out of a stockade at the prison farm after killing William Bohannon, 35, Clarksville, Ark., a trusty guard.

Williams and Rheurik were wounded when they attempted to "shoot it out" with officers. Both are in a prison hospital at Cummings prison farm. Eaton and Dyer have been returned to Tucker farm.

Prosecutor Smith said the four probably will be tried at the March term of the Jefferson circuit court.

School Teacher Stabbed By Pupil

GRANITE CITY, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillie Firner, 40-yr-old school teacher, was stabbed Wednesday in what police said was an attack by a 13-year-old pupil.

The boy later was turned over to police by his parents. No charge was placed against him immediately.

Police said Mrs. Firner apparently was stabbed by a pair of scissors.

Ralph Frohardt, principal of the grade school where the attack occurred, told police the student had been required to stay after school because he had returned to classes late after the noon hour.

Frohardt said he was in his office when Mrs. Firner ran in screaming: "He stabbed me! he stabbed me! She suffered a chest and back wound."

Strongly Against Totalitarianism

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Wednesday a realignment of the Democratic and Republican parties "would result in a one-party system and finally totalitarian government."

The 1948 Republican presidential candidate delivered the first of four lectures on "The American political system" at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton university.

Dewey said in a speech that "impractical theorists with a 'passion for neatness' demand that our parties be sharply divided, one against the other, in interest, membership and doctrine."

"They want to drive all moderates and liberals out of the Republican party and then have the remainder join forces with the conservative groups of the south. Then they would have everything very neatly arranged indeed. The Democratic party would be the liberal-to-radical party. The Republican party would be the conservative-to-reactionary party."

Then Dewey declared: "The results would be neatly arranged too. The Republicans would lose every election and the Democrats would win every election. It may be a perfect theory but it would result in a one-party system and finally totalitarian government. As you may suspect, by now, I am against it."

Federal Jury Cites Witness

Woman Deputy Alleged To Have Hampered Inquiry

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9.—(P)—A 43-year-old woman deputy in the county assessor's office was cited for civil contempt here late Wednesday by a federal grand jury which accused her of hampering its investigation in underworld activities.

The woman was Miss Blanche Howard. The grand jury made a seven-page presentation to Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan, who set a hearing for Friday.

Miss Howard told Judge Duncan she had no attorney but would get one. She left the courtroom with Charlie Binaggio, a Democratic leader here.

The presentation charged she had given "obstructive, evasive, perjurious and contumacious answers to the grand jury x x x deliberately obstructing its investigation."

Claim Large Deposits
The presentation also pointed out that evidence had shown Miss Howard between 1944 and last year had deposited large sums of money in various banks here.

Deposits included, the presentation said, accounts of $4,761, $5,094, $4,711, and $13,557. The witnesses, the presentation continued, testified the money had been given her by "one Jack Griffin, alias Jack Gregory."

It went on to describe Griffin as "a notorious Kansas City and St. Louis mobster."

In 1934 Griffin was in a hospital here with bullet wounds suffered in an attempt to slay him for his rumored part in the killing of John Lazia, one-time political lieutenant here.

Griffin was taken from the hospital to a justice court to face a robbery charge. A $10,000 bond was put up for Griffin by two Lazia lieutenants over Griffin's protest. Griffin then disappeared and police have never found a trace of him.

According to the presentation, Miss Howard testified Griffin had given her approximately $18,000.

A Buick car was purchased in Miss Howard's name for $2,600 the grand jury statement said. Charlie Gargotta, a North Side figure, paid the money, the jury said it had learned. The presentation said Miss Howard had testified she had given Gargotta $2,400 to pay for the car and that he had added $200.

The grand jury contended Miss Howard had not "told the full truth" about the part Gargotta played in the purchase of the car.

The grand jury further alleges that "she fails and refuses to truthfully tell where she got the $18,000 in cash which she sporadically deposited in three banks x x x or to tell truthfully the name of the person from whom she received the $18,000."

Burning Live Dog 'Terrible Mistake'

GRiffin, Ga., Feb. 9.—(P)—Joe Williams, head of the sanitary department, promised Wednesday no more dogs will be burned alive at the city dump.

Williams said it was true that one was burned alive as charged in a letter to the Griffin News. He called it a "terrible mistake."

The dog, he explained, had been shot as a stray and was believed dead. While it was being incinerated, however, it began to whimper and moan.

Hereafter, he announced, dogs will be buried instead of burned after being shot.

Marshall Plan Come To End Before Emergency Does

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Europe's campaign to limit purchases in the United States, adopted to meet the dollar shortage emergency, threatens to become a permanent situation.

The latest report of the organization for European Economic Cooperation, the instrument for distribution of Marshall aid, makes this year.

Europe's dollar deficit when the Marshall plan ends in 1952 will remain large. Then the symptom will threaten to become a system, in which Europeans will try to sell the U. S. all they can, meanwhile spending their own money elsewhere.

The ghost of such a system, and its possible effect on the American economy, has stalked through the whole course of the Marshall plan.

American business circles, although showing occasional signs of uneasiness, have not raised a great outcry about it because, with so much Marshall aid money being spent here, with its immediate good effects on business, the day of reckoning has been postponed.

The Europeans have been encouraged to carry this boycott as far as they can, as a part of the price America has been paying to put them on their feet and secure their effectiveness in the cold war.

But now it appears that they are either unwilling or unable to accomplish the economic unity and financial strength which would eventually relegate such a system to the category of emergency measures.

The Marshall plan undoubtedly has been worth everything it cost from a political standpoint. But it is going to end before the emergency does.

Clamor To Impend
When that time comes there is going to be clamor on both sides of the Atlantic. Although they diplomatically avoid the subject, Europeans are already hoping for—and probably relying on—some sort of a program for continued help. They will be joined by American business and labor when the effect of diminishing relief purchases begins to be felt.

There is a good chance that some of the trouble Paul Hoffman is having with the British right now, and his failure to obtain their cooperation in reducing trade barriers and establishing a central currency clearing house, is connected with the approach of this period.

If the loaned money with which Britain has been financing its American purchases is cut off more and more out of the market, then Britain will have a better chance to step in. Or at least some of her leaders may see it that way.

One British leader has just said that she can be independent of dollar aid by 1952 if U. S. business continues at a high level. That means, if the U. S. continues sufficiently prosperous to purchase British goods without bothering whether Britain purchases ours.

The broad view of American policy is that by better trading methods and development of economically undeveloped people, sufficient markets will be created for all industrial nations.

Between now and the time such a dream as that can be accomplished there is going to be a lot of uncertainty and perhaps a very great deal of trouble.

Philadelphia school children were among those present to bid bon voyage to the gifts for Europe's children.

George N. Craig, national commander of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the "Tide of Toys" campaign, said the gifts are being sent with "the assurance of a child's toy and a child's word that the spirit of peace and fellowship, introduced by another Child 2,000 years ago still lives."

The American Defender will call at Rotterdam and Antwerp, from which ports the toys will be distributed to needy children in the Netherlands, Austria, Berlin and the three western zones of Germany.

Rebekah Lodge Installation

The La Monte Rebekah Lodge No. 721 installed its newly elected and appointed officers February 6th in the presence of a large crowd from La Monte, Sedalia and Holden. Mrs. Curry, district deputy president, installing officer, and her corps of officers, the marshal, vice-grand, chaplain and musician, all of Holden, Mrs. Len Little of Jefferson City, a past noble grand of LaMonte lodge installed the secretary and treasurer. As Mrs. Edna Berry was conducted to the altar for installation as noble grand, Mr. Berry presented her with a corsage of pink rose buds, while her daughter, Helen Mae sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

A social hour followed installation, while the refreshment committee served ice cream with cup cakes and coffee.

January Big Month For Them

EVINGTON, Va., Feb. 9.—(AP)—"It really is something to have four children in two years—especially, I suppose, for a man of my age."

That was 69-year-old Luther R. Moses speaking. And the retired local merchant beamed proudly.

Then he pointed to two sets of twins—Lawrence Randolph and Luther Robert, Jr., one year old, and Linda Neil and Brenda Gayle, two weeks old.

"Why, it was only a little more than two years ago that I went visiting with friends down in Blanche, N. C. There I met Odell," Moses said.

He pointed again to Odell, his attractive 35-year-old wife.

"January sure has been our big month," he mused. "Just look."

He began to count off the events:

January, 1915—Odell was born.

January, 1948—He and Odell were married.

January, 1949—The boy twins arrived.

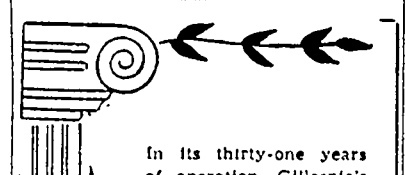

January, 1950—The girl twins were born.

"I suppose it is somewhat of a rarity," Moses observed. "I suppose a person could almost call it a curiosity."

SEOUL, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A Korean government spokesman asserted today that Russia has leased port areas on the east coast of Communist north Korea.

The office of public information said large scale harbor construction was in progress at Wonsan, Chungjin and Sungjin.

Unacquainted, But Write Tune

By William Pearl
OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A couple of unacquainted western music makers had a meeting of . . . minds—through the mails.

The result: "Rag Mop," a novelty tune—not a western—which has bounced its way to near the top of the favorite song heap.

Johnny Lee Willis and Deacon Anderson are the cowboy-booted gentlemen listed as the song's co-composers.

But the two probably wouldn't say "Hello" if they approached the juke box at the same time.

Willis' "Hill-Billy" band headquarters in Tulsa. Anderson plunks a steel guitar for a western swing outfit in Beaumont, Tex.

The Texan (Texans like to be called Texans) wrote the song—the music and the lyrics. Then, last fall, he folded it in an envelope, addressed it to Willis, and dropped it in a mail chute.

"He told Johnny Lee he was to receive half the profits and appear on the label as co-composer if he could do anything with it," O. W. Mayo, who travels over-the-state for Willis, said here.

And Johnny Lee did something with it.

Doesn't Expect To Keep Record

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The pilot of a record-breaking navy bomber doesn't expect his new mark to stand very long.

The twin-engined plane landed at San Francisco airport after a 5,000-mile flight from the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, Cmdr. Thomas Robinson commented:

"We clipped the old record of 4,800 miles, but he next flight will probably break ours."

The Neptune bomber made a jet-assisted takeoff from the carrier off Jacksonville, Fla., at 12:13 p. m. eastern standard time, Tuesday. It landed here at 11:12 a. m. (2:12 p. m. EST) yesterday—an elapsed time of 25 hours, 59 minutes.

The Navy said that is a record for a carrier-based bomber. It was a Neptune bomber also that, in 1946, set a record for a non-refueling flight by land-based planes—about 11,000 miles from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio.

Diamonds Valued At $200,000 Taken

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A case containing diamonds valued at retail in excess of $200,000 was taken last night by two bandits who held up a jewelry salesman in his West Los Angeles home.

Milton Cohen, 35, told police one of them posed as a messenger, then pulled a gun. A confederate entered the back door and the two searched the house, demanding "Where is the stuff? We know you have it."

Cohen said the gems, some polished and some uncut, were on consignment from a New York brokerage house and were insured.

Cohen is employed by the H. Hamburger jewelry house, New York.

Divorce Petition Filed

A divorce petition was filed in circuit court this morning by Helen Ellison against Leonard L. Ellison. General indignities were alleged. They were married January 29, 1947, and separated on January 1, 1950.

Crawford and Harlan are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Divorce Suit Filed

Alleging general indignities, Orville A. Keightley filed for a divorce through his attorney, George Anson, against Emma Marie Keightley in circuit court this afternoon.

The petition read that the couple was married in September, 1945, and lived together until July of 1948.

Enumerator Exams Sometime Next Week

Examinations for applicants as enumerators for the 1950 census will be given in Sedalia next week, the date to be set, according to O. P. Keller, supervisor of the census for the Sixth Congressional district. In the Pettis county area there are at present more than 100 applications.

Mr. Keller stated he would return to Sedalia, the coming week, and would give the examination.

Out of the group which passes the examination 36 will be appointed to take the census, two crew leaders, one for the county area outside Sedalia and one for the city of Sedalia area will be appointed.

Youth, 13, Stabs His Teacher

GRANITE CITY, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Police are holding a frightened 13-year-old boy who they said admitted stabbing his teacher twice with a pair of scissors during an after-school discussion yesterday.

The youth is Fred T. Pattie, an eighth grade student. Officers said he gave no reason for his action.

The teacher, Mrs. Lillie Firner, 40, also was unable to explain the attack. She said she and Pattie were having a friendly talk about a school work when:

"Suddenly he stabbed me. I asked him why he did it and pointed out I had never done anything to him."

"He replied he didn't know, but 'just couldn't help it' and stabbed me again."

Mrs. Firner, a recent bride, was brought to Barnes hospital in St. Louis. Physicians said her condition is not serious.

Rewriting Air Force Tactics

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A little known Eglin group today is rewriting air force tactics in terms of subsonic speeds and earthshaking new weapons.

The air proving ground's 3200th proof test group's work is shrouded in secrecy, and carried out on remote ranges of this northwest Florida military reservation.

It takes the planes and guns and bombs designed for America's first line air combat units, and finds out exactly what they will do. Then it decides how they can be best employed.

The veteran 3200th isn't guided by rule books. It writes them. It took a 600-mile an hour jet fighter built for high altitude interception, and proved it was made to order for an infantry support weapon.

Plan Showdown On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Prodded from within their own ranks, Republican leaders laid plans today to force a senate showdown on civil rights bills.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, told a reporter that if the Democrats don't move to bring up a fair employment practices commission bill within two weeks, "Republicans will press for it."

Taft's statement came after Senators Lodge (R-Mass) and Ives (R-NY) said in separate interviews they will demand action by their party to bolster what both have labeled as a week-kneed endorsement of civil rights bills in this week's GOP policy declaration.

"We will get a chance to vote on this question and I'm hoping that the Republicans will show they are for action, not just talk, about civil rights," Ives said.

Divorce Is Granted

A divorce was granted this morning to Lorene Brumbaek, from Leroy Brumbaek, by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman. General indignities were alleged in the petition. The plaintiff was awarded the care and custody of their three minor children and $50 a month for support.

Billings Store Robbed

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Thieves obtained loot valued at $1,000 last night in the burglary of a store owned by Dick Watkinson at Billings, 15 miles southwest of here, the Highway Patrol reported today. The haul included 12 cases of liquor, a dozen diamond rings and about 20 watches.

Admitted for medical treatment and dismissed: H. S. Adams, 200 West Main street.

Admitted for surgery: Mrs. Sophia Heffner, 1501 South Quincy avenue.

OBITUARIES

Claude J. Elkins
Claude J. Elkins, 49 years old, died at his home five miles north of Stover Tuesday following an illness of seven months.

Mr. Elkins was born in Sedalia on December 26, 1900, where he lived most of his life. He moved to Stover in 1936. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Sedalia and the Methodist church in Stover.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude Moseby, one son, Claude, Jr., of Norwalk, Calif., three grandchildren and a daughter-in-law in California, an adopted daughter, Patty, of the home, one half brother, Vernon Elkins, of Denver, Colo., two half sisters, Mrs. Eva Mae Sugg, of St. Louis and Mrs. Laverna Wesner, of Kansas City, and his father-in-law, R. A. Moseby, of Sedalia.

His father, Ben V. Elkins, a Missouri Pacific engineer, died several years ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church in Stover at 12:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and a second service will be held at the McLaughlin chapel here at 3:00 o'clock.

Mrs. George Lovercamp and Mrs. M. O. Stevens will sing: "God Will Take Care of You" and "The Last Mile of the Way." Mrs. Mae Moser will be the accompanist.

Pallbearers will be Ed Rake, E. J. Elkins, Jr., Kyle Vickery, Harry Monsees, Albert Viebrock and A. C. Cornett.

Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery with the I.O.O.F. lodge ritualistic service.

Mr. Elkins' son arrived from the state of California a week ago and his sister, Mrs. Wesner, of Kansas City, came Wednesday night. His other sister, Mrs. Sugg, of St. Louis will arrive this evening and Mrs. Elkins' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moseby and her sister, Mrs. Webb Honer and Mr. Honer, all of Detroit, Mich., will arrive tonight.

Charge Drug Firms Monopoly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The justice department today charged two leading drug making firms with trying to monopolize the sale of gelatin capsules—used for "vitamin pills" and other medicines.

Attorney General McGrath announced the filing of a civil antitrust action in federal court at Detroit against Parke-Davis and Co., Detroit, and Eli Lilly and Co., Indianapolis.

Hard gelatin capsules "are used primarily as soluble containers for drugs and medicines taken in 'pill' or 'capsule' form," the department explained. One chief use is in vitamin pills, an official added.

Both companies make and sell hard gelatin capsules as a part of their business of marketing pharmaceuticals and biologicals.

The justice department charged that, acting together, the companies have obtained control over machinery used in making and filling hard gelatin capsules.

This control, it added, has been used "to achieve and maintain a monopoly over the manufacture and sale of such capsules."

William Carrol Hunt

William Carrol Hunt, 79 years of age, died at his home, 1403 South Kentucky avenue, this morning at 5:30 o'clock, after a short illness.

He was married to Miss Phoebe Callis in 1924. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Phoebe Hunt, a son, O. B. Hunt of Borger, Tex., a daughter, Mrs. Valta Pringle of Texas and a granddaughter of the state of Nebraska.

The body was taken to the Gillespie funeral home, pending the arrival of relatives, who will help make the funeral arrangements.

Homer Dodson

Homer Dodson, of New Franklin, brother of Mrs. Delia Turner, of 1020 South Osage avenue, died suddenly Sunday afternoon at his home.

Surviving are two brothers, Marion Dodson, of the family home, and Nobel Dodson, of Painesville, Ohio; and three sisters, Mrs. Turner of Sedalia, Mrs. Ora Barkham, of Painesville, Ohio and Mrs. Myrtle Overstreet, of Boonville.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in New Franklin with the American Legion in charge. Mr. Dodson was a veteran of World War I.

Attending the funeral from here were Mrs. Turner, her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Bruce and Mrs. A. C. Morton.

Lexis C. President

Lexis C. President, died Wednesday morning at 1:15 o'clock at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe President, 215 East Hogan street.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lucinda President, son Roscoe President of Sedalia; two daughters, Mrs. Juanita Smith and Mrs. Violet Jones, both of Kansas City; a brother, Ben President of Sedalia; two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Cooper of Windsor, Mrs. Mayme Green of Sedalia, six grandchildren and other relatives.

The body is at the Alexander funeral home, pending funeral arrangements.

Still Search for Robbers

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Police, working with scanty information, stepped up their search today for two men who robbed the Bank of Douglas and escaped with $116,250.

Every available law enforcement officer in the state, including agents of the federal bureau of investigation, has been marshaled for the hunt before the trail becomes cold.

They are seeking a man described as a light-skinned Negro between the ages of 30 and 35, and a Spanish American, about 32. They carried out the robbery early yesterday.

The bandits forced the janitor to let them in the building about 6 a. m. and waited until the vault teller, James Wise, arrived about 7:30 a. m. He was forced at gun and knife point to open the vault.

Zoning Regulations Should Always be Kept Up-to-date

By Alexander R. George
(For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(AP)—Many American cities—perhaps your town is one of them—would be more prosperous and livable if their zoning regulations were up to date.
So say city planning experts who made a study of the zoning problem for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Zoning pointers by these experts are contained in a 44-page booklet just issued by the Chamber.
Zoning regulations desirable some years ago are now sadly out of date, the experts say, largely because of great changes in the commercial and residential setups of many cities during the past 20 to 30 years.
Early zoning ordinances set apart long stretches of a city's main streets for business use only. Now many business enterprises have moved to outlying locations, and the old commercial zone is in the wrong location for merchandising and transportation.

Favor One-Floor Line
Numerous manufacturing concerns have abandoned the multi-story factory for the one-floor production line. As a result more land is needed for the factory and for off-street parking and loading.
The city planners point out that when this land is not available under zoning regulations, industry moves out. Result: The community loses in tax revenues and in its ability to provide employment for its citizens.
A long-time trend to smaller families, together with higher costs of living and construction, have caused many families to seek smaller quarters and cheaper rental housing. The effect on zoning requirements has been a demand for garden apartments with more open space, properly located with relation to elevator apartments and single family dwellings.

Desirable Development
The so-called "self-sufficient" neighborhood development is increasingly regarded as desirable for present-day living. This includes various types of uses such as shopping center, garden apartments and two-family houses as well as single-family dwellings.
As a result there is need for zoning to encourage this type of development and to see that it is properly directed for the welfare of the community as a whole.
Another tough zoning problem in many cities is parking in the central districts. The experts suggest as approaches to this problem:

1. More intensive use of existing parking space and of public transportation.
Encourage Commercial Parking
2. Encouragement of the commercial parking industry.
3. Cooperative efforts by groups of business men and property owners to establish more parking facilities.
4. Formation of municipal parking agencies with power to assemble land and negotiate for construction and operation of parking facilities.
5. Direct municipal action financed by parking meter receipts, revenue bonds, benefit district assessments and from general funds of the city.

Mrs. Roosevelt on Television

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will present a weekly series of one-half hour television shows, beginning Sunday.
The National Broadcasting Co. said Tuesday that the programs (from 4 to 4:30 p. m. EST) will feature guests prominent in the fields of science, government and world affairs.
Among guests for the first program Sunday will be Dr. Albert Einstein, famed scientist, who will give his views on the controversial H-bomb. He will be seen on a specially made film.
Others, who will appear in person for a discussion on the same subject, include David E. Lilienthal, soon to retire as chairman of the atomic energy commission; Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the senate committee on atomic energy; and Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, atomic scientist and president of the institute for advanced studies at Princeton, N. J.

Says She Watched Seven Years To Her Husband Kill One; Day to Other

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A pretty 18-year-old blonde told police Wednesday she watched her husband kill an oilman in Texas. Then she tried to jump from a fifth-story window at police headquarters.

The girl, who gave her name as Mrs. Diana Heaney Johnson, was held in $40,000 bail by federal authorities on two counts—alleged car theft and fleeing across state lines to escape prosecution for murder.

Police said Mrs. Johnson was waiting to be arraigned when she jumped on a chair and climbed onto a window sill. A police matron and several U. S. marshals dragged her down.

Police matron Eleanor Phillips said only the fact that the unbarred window was closed prevented the girl from leaping.

Federal park police said Mrs. Johnson came to them voluntarily last Sunday to describe the robbery-slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, Texas oil field explosives expert, at an Amarillo tourist camp last June 22.

Police said she told them Thornton was killed by her hitchhiking companion, Ewald A. Johnson, whom she identified as her husband. Johnson is still at large.

Texas officials were reported ready to leave at once for Washington to take custody of Mrs. Johnson. Federal authorities said she would be surrendered to them if she waives extradition and agrees to return to Texas.

That spring is at hand. Maybe he has come a little early and there will be days he will regret it, but never-the-less he is always a very welcome visitor when he comes back from his winter vacation some place where it is warmer for he is always the very first sign of spring.

ON LAND...SEA...and AIR!

The Never-Told Story of the Navy's Heroic High-Flying Hurricane Service!

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—U. S. District Judge Stephen Chandler Wednesday sentenced two young men for kidnaping a Winters, Texas, man. James Edward Oglesby, 17, Little Rock, Ark., was sentenced to one day in the custody of the U. S. marshal. Judge Chandler said he gave the light sentence because of Oglesby's previous good record.

John Warren Collins, 21, Hobbs, N. M., was given a seven-year prison sentence on the charge.

The two had pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping John P. Dry of Winters, robbing him of $40 and transporting him in his car to Sayre, Okla., where he was left tied to a tree.

Oglesby and Collins were arrested Jan. 13 near Springdale, Ark.

Kansas Governor Into Senate Race

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Frank Carlson formally entered the race for the Republican nomination for United States senator Wednesday.

His long expected announcement makes him the second GOP aspirant for the post now held by his political ally, Harry Darby, Republican national committeeman.

Harry W. Colmery, Topeka attorney and former national commander of the American Legion, announced his senatorial candidacy on Jan. 24.

Carlson, now in his second term as chief executive, served 12 years in congress before retiring voluntarily in 1946 to run for governor.

He appointed Darby to the Senate last December to serve the unexpired term of the late Senator Clyde M. Reed, Parsons Republican. Darby has repeatedly said he will not seek election to any office.

Redbreasted Robin is Here

"I don't believe much in the groundhog's predictions," chirped a little redbreasted robin in the yard of Carson Meredith's home, 1100 South Ohio, avenue Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Meredith and Rev. H. U. Campbell looked out the window as the cheery little note of the first messenger of spring sounded loudly and proudly and sure enough there was Mr. Robin, his head held high telling the world that spring is at hand. Maybe he has come a little early and there will be days he will regret it, but never-the-less he is always a very welcome visitor when he comes back from his winter vacation some place where it is warmer for he is always the very first sign of spring.

Faculty Team Wins Benefit Game 49-41

A Gay Time Was Had by Many Between Halves

The Smith-Cotton faculty beat the Williams' Five Stars 49 to 41 in a see-saw battle at Smith-Cotton high school Wednesday night. The game was a benefit affair for the purchase of new curtains in the high school auditorium.

Members of the faculty put on skits at half time and a pep rally for the S-C Tigers in Friday's game with Hannibal. The game was a loosely played affair, with the lead changing hands often. Finally the faculty moved ahead and stayed that way in the last half.

High Point Honors to Glavin
Howard Glavin, assistant basketball coach at Smith-Cotton took high point honors with 20 points for the faculty. Coach Jim Ball was second with 18. Whitfield, Berry and Williams tied for high score on the five star team with 10 points each.

The game furnished plenty of laughs for the evening. Pinkney Miller of the manual training department started the evening on the not too serious side by putting a wire over the Five Star team's basket, which was removed by game time. It took some time for the members of the faculty team to get their "shooting eyes" back and the Five Stars jumped into the lead, which they held until the latter part of the quarter when the Faculty team overhauled them and took a 13-11 first quarter lead.

In the second quarter, after a see-saw beginning, the Five Stars moved to what appeared to be a safe lead of 27 to 23 at intermission. The faculty team looked tired and it appeared as if the younger team would go on to win at this point.

Faculty Makes Comeback
In the third quarter the faculty team made a brilliant comeback. This was probably due to the capers put on by other faculty members at half time, which gave them new strength. Anyway the faculty team played a steadier third period to take the lead and never relinquished it. Going into the third quarter Faculty led with 33 to 31.

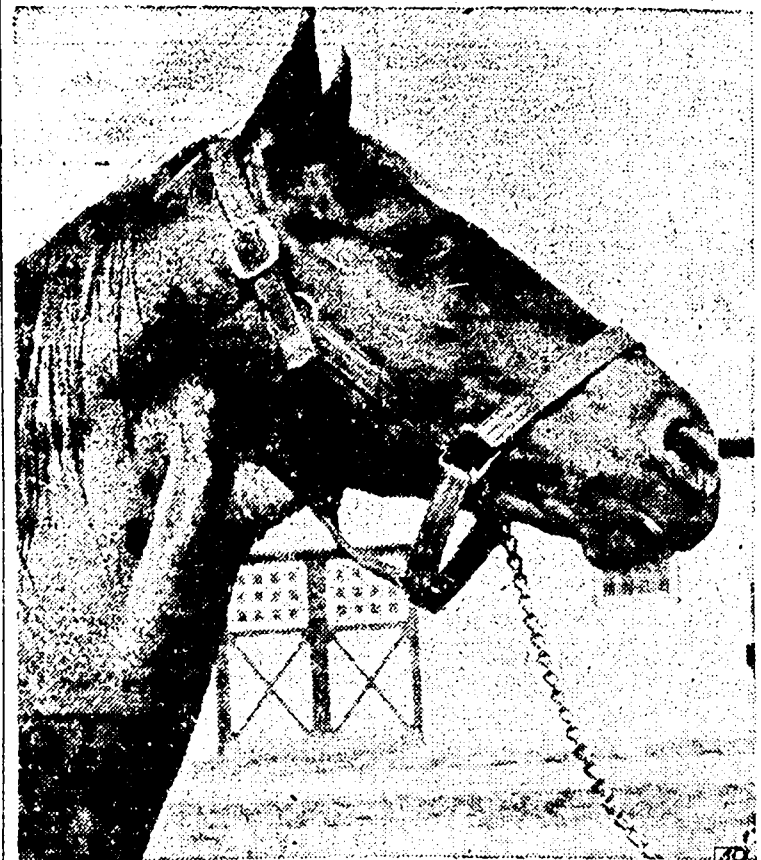

At the start of the final frame Faculty opened up a big lead, which enabled them to stave off a last minute Five Star rally. Near the finish of the period the Five Stars flooded the court with players and had 14 fouls called against them. Faculty tried five free throws, but only made two, to end the game with a 49 to 41 score.

Half Time Skits
The non-playing members of the faculty put on a hilarious show between halves for the benefit of the school spirit for the coming game with Hannibal. A band composed of Miss Lois Gordan of the physical education department; E. C. Schlichting of the commerce department; Miss Carlida Breckenridge and Wilford Bell of the Science department; Miss Jerry Teufel of the music department and Miss Maude Sanders of the typing department and Pinkney Miller of the manual arts department played a vague facsimile of "Sedville Will Shine" and "Those Tigers Go Rolling Along."

After the band finished the crowd saw the school's most popular twirlers in Mrs. Thelma Cook and Mrs. Alma Hausam, the senior English teacher and study hall teacher, who put on a twirling act which pleased the crowd very much, even though they were slightly out of practice.

The faculty cheering section was led by teachers Gordan and Breckenridge, who gave the students plenty of fun and the faculty a lot of pep. After the skits the students' pep band played several pieces and the school

Cage Tilts Wednesday Night at Hughesville

The Hughesville cagers won and lost a game Wednesday night on their home court when they played host to the Sweet Springs basketball team before a large crowd. It was one of the most exciting games of the season for the home town fans to witness.

The Hughesville A team beat the Sweet Springs A squad by a score of 39-25. The Hughesville B team lost to Sweet Springs 40-31. At no time were the Hughesville A cagers on thin ice. They piled up a 7-1 score in the first eight minutes and led 20-11 at the half. The third quarter ended 32-15 in Hughesville's favor.

Conway paced the Hughesville quintet with 16 points and Sweet Springs led Sweet Springs with 20 points.

In the B game, Sweet Springs held a two point margin over Hughesville at the half, 22-20. High scorer for Sweet Springs was Krause with 7 points, while Hughesville's high pointer was Mosby with 15 points.

Officials were Gilmore and Rissler.

The Hughesville basketball team will meet the Green Ridge cagers on the Hughesville court Friday night.

Hannibal Comes To Sedalia For a Shot at the Crown

The Smith-Cotton Tigers will play the Hannibal Pirates at 8 o'clock Friday night in the game that will decide the leadership in the CEMO conference. The crucial game will be the last chance for the Tigers to top the conference. If Sedalia wins the contest the race will be thrown into a deadlock between Hannibal and Sedalia and in all probability would remain that way as Sedalia has only one other conference game left — with MMA.

The Hannibal team is one of the four unbeaten class A high school teams left in the state. It has a seasonal record of 18 wins. If it gets by Sedalia Friday night it will have the CEMO crown in the bag and will be a good bet to finish the season undefeated. Hannibal has beaten the Tiger crew twice this season by two points. The first time the two teams met was in the CEMO conference tourney at Jefferson City where they downed the home town boys by a 40-38 score. In the last meeting the Pirates emerged victorious by a 39-37 count at Hannibal. The Tigers blew a three point lead in the last 45 seconds of that game. It was in that game with Hannibal that Sedalia tallied the lowest score this year. This may indicate that the coming game will be a sharp defensive battle.

Friday night's game will see the best two centers of the conference pitted against each other. Hannibal's Sanders and Sedalia's Hoist, both leading their respective teams this year. Hannibal has eight seniors on the squad and all starters are last year men. The Tigers have six seniors on their squad. Both teams are powerful and the breaks will probably decide the game. It should be the best game of the season played here.

Probable starters for Hannibal are: Arnold, Rhodes, Sanders, Smith and Fohey. These boys and their teammates, together with Coach Wynn will arrive in Sedalia sometime Friday afternoon.

Eleven Boys to Dress
Eleven Tigers will dress for the all important game Friday. They are: Bill Hoist, Bill Brown, Ralph Walker, Marvin Lankenau, Dale Ruffin and Deen Edwards, seniors; and Bill McCrary, Bill Morgan, Eddie Johnson, Tommy Menefee and Bob Shawver, juniors.

Riddle turned his memory back 32 years when he first sighted Man O' War, an unbrushed yearling, sunburnt and thin.

"You'll hear fifty people tell you how they influenced me to buy him," Riddle cautioned, "but don't you believe it. I sent my trainer down to look over August Belmont's batch of yearlings for sale, and the trainer said he did not see anything worthwhile. So I went myself.

"I saw this yearling in the last stall and asked the groom if he had been set aside. The groom said no, he was for sale too.

"When that big red horse — he stood over sixteen hands high — poked his head through the door my heart skipped a little. I knew right away I had to have that horse. So I paid $5,000 for him.

Offspring Still Coming
"It was the greatest investment any man could make. He kept me on top for twenty years. . . . Gave me a great horse every year of his life. . . . And his offspring are still coming, grandchildren that is."

"Just look at the American line 'Big Red' gave me — Crusader, Battleship, Clyde Van Dusen, War Hero, American Flag, War Glory, Scapa Flow, Mars, Edith Cavell — I could go on all day. Seabiscuit was his greatest grandson, but there were many other great grandchildren of Man O' War."

$100,000 DELIVERY—All dressed up in a Pirate uniform, Paul Pettit demonstrates the delivery and grip which enabled him to pitch six no-hit games for his high school team. The Pittsburgh club paid the 18-year-old Lomita, Calif., left-hander $100,000 to sign through an agent.

Sam Snead is Choice to Win Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Swollen by the largest brigade of touring professionals in golf history, the Texas Open's 313-man field moved out today in the first 18-hole round of the oldest tournament along the winter trail.

Starting at 8 a. m., the seekers of $10,000 in prize money were due to wind up the opening round about nightfall, playing on two courses.

Balding Sam Snead, riding the hottest winning streak in golf at this time, is a heavy choice to drag down first place money of $2,000. The picture swinger from West Virginia has pocketed $5,358 in five tournaments this year and could finish out of the money here and still be the leader in earnings. But Brother Snead hasn't failed to win something in a tournament in quite a stretch.

Forty-one personal fouls were called against Louisville, ranked thirteenth nationally in the Associated Press poll this week. Six Louisville players were banished on personal fouls in the last 10 minutes.

"The officiating out here (in Denver) doesn't give the defense a break," declared John Dromo, Louisville assistant coach. "The emphasis on the officiating out here seems to be to protect the ball dribbler or the one in possession of the ball. The 41 fouls were the most fouls called on us in the last two years."

Bill Juengling and John Lloyd, the officials, said they were bound by Skyline Six conference rules not to comment.

The visiting team is managed by Sports Enterprise, which also heads the traveling Globe Trotters.

CBC Cagers In A Victory

The fast moving quintet of Central Business college walloped a Humansville five to the tune of 71 to 31 in the Warsaw Lions club's Independent Basketball tourney which is being played off at Warsaw this week.

The local cagers grabbed the lead in the opening minutes of the contest and held it all the way. The first quarterscore was 21 to 7. The second quarter saw the Sedalia boys were in a twenty point lead with a score of 34 to 14. The third quarter of the game the five from Humansville were left trailing by thirty-six points with the C. B. C. boys out in front 56 to 20. The final score was 71 to 31.

The high point men for Sedalia were Thompson with 17, Thomas with 12 and Elwell with 12.

High pointers for Humansville was Roy with 9.

The college club will meet Urbana on the Warsaw court this evening at 6:30 o'clock.

In other final scores Wednesday night Marshall crushed Clinton 64 to 43; Warrensburg Casingham defeated Knob Noster 44 to 31 and Windsor eliminated Versailles 72 to 60.

Bob Tipton, one of CBC's starters, turned his ankle at the start of the game Wednesday night. He will probably not play throughout the tourney. The team will lose some height and points by not having Tipton on the court.

Officials for the tournament are Ralph Dow, Rocky Carver and Virgil Oglevie.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

DOUBLE WEDDING at the turn of the century, and a double golden wedding anniversary at midcentury was the unique experience of these two couples of North Royalton, O. They are Halbert and Harry Cartwright, brothers, who married Jennie and Ethel Baird, sisters. The picture is a study in wedding costumes of 50 years ago. For the men, stiff wing collars and white ties, black two-button cutaways, and at the vest of each a heavy gold watch chain and fob. For the brides, white frilly gowns, floor-length, stiffly incurved at the waistline, with long sleeves and many ruffles, white high-topped shoes with bows. Brides are demure, as is the custom with brides, and the bridegrooms look slightly frightened, even as bridegrooms today.

LONG-NAME CAT—This is Elco's Admiral Ku Chu Sec, a Peke-face red tabby male, exhibited by Miss Ella Conroy, of New Richmond, O., in show of Atlantic Cat Club, New York.

A BOY'S HERITAGE

The revered Abraham Lincoln is pictured with his son Tad in this drawing by Bruno Figallo. It depicts the love and companionship which should be the heritage of every child. These, combined with the thrift habits of our forebears, spelled comfort and security, a wonderful background for a child. What the artist also conveys through this drawing is that every parent desires the best for his children, a nice home, a good education. Both can be attained through a regular and automatic investment in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Strategy On Policy Of Power

Acheson Stresses Strength Creation Instead Of Show Of Weakness

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(AP)—In a sweeping statement of U. S. foreign policy for the H-bomb age, Secretary of State Acheson Wednesday rejected all suggestions for new American peace appeals to Russia. Instead, he based this country's anti-Communist strategy squarely on a policy of power.

Four years of experience, Acheson told a news conference, "have brought us the realization that progress toward world peace simply by making agreements with the Russians is impossible."

But the Soviet government is "realistic," he said, and adjusts its policies when compelled by facts to do so. Therefore, he declared, American basic policy is: "To build situations which will extend the area of possible agreement, that is, to create strength instead of the weakness which exists in many quarters."

Acheson declared that "agreements reached with the Soviet government are useful when those agreements register facts or a situation which exists and x x x are not useful when they are merely agreements which do not register the existing facts."

Continue Work On Bomb
Public leaders and scientists during the past several months have proposed a special Truman emissary to the Kremlin, a Truman-Stalin-Attlee meeting, and an appeal to Russia prior to a decision to make the H-bomb. During most of the hubbub, the administration has been silent except for Mr. Truman's announcement last week that work on the hydrogen bomb will continue.

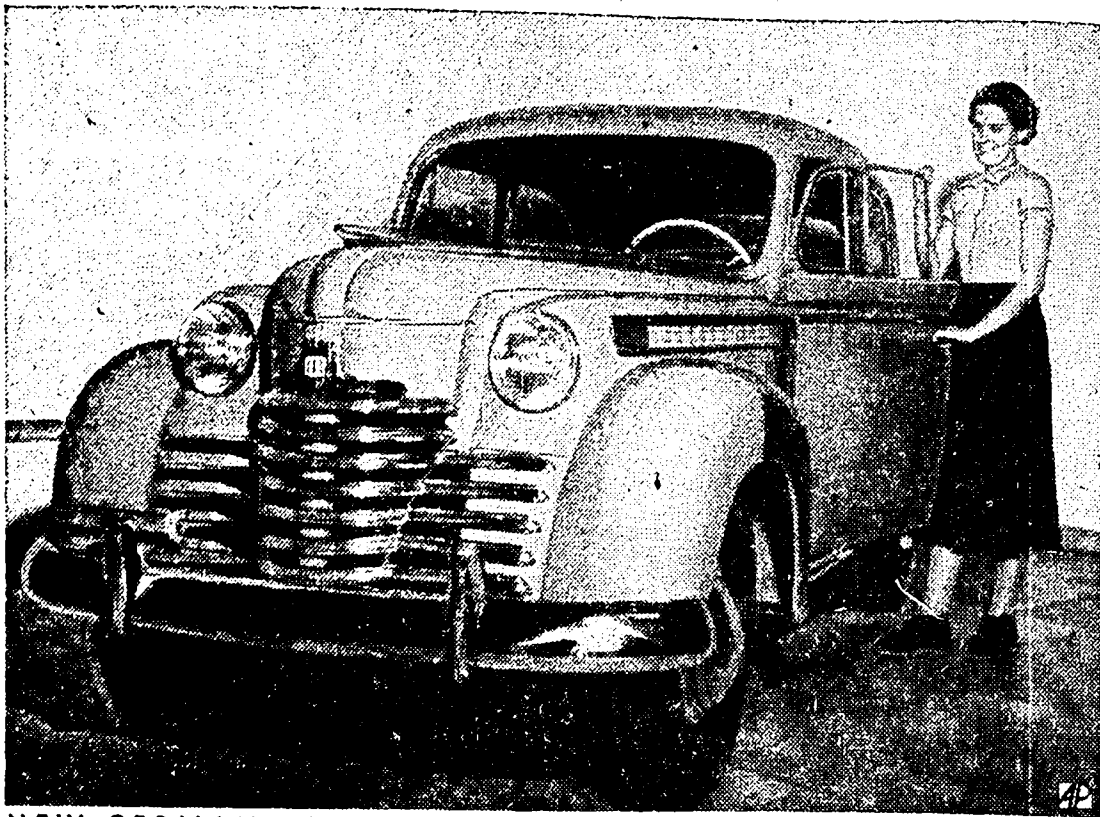

Today Acheson said that contrary to some suggestions he does not think it would be necessary to set up a new group of distinguished private citizens to review this country's atomic control policies in the international field.

The impact of Acheson's argument was that much of what has been said was beside the point. He said:

After declaring that agreements for the sake of agreements mean nothing in dealing with the Russians; that the Russians will respond only to strength; and that the United States is concerned to develop strength in weak spots in the non-Communist world, Acheson declared:

"Now many people are troubled, and rightly troubled, because of the possibility that there may be developed a new and very terrible weapon. That is a proper and sober response to this very serious fact."

"But I wish to draw your attention to the other fact, that

NEW GERMAN AUTO—Shown recently at the Opel plant, Ruesselsheim, Germany, was this 1930 Olympia sedan with a speed of 70 miles an hour and fuel consumption of 25 miles to gallon.

the existence of this possibility does not change the facts which I have just been discussing with you."

Mackenzie's Column

By Dewitt Mackenzie

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are reported in the London Evening Star to be planning a return to England to live again after their years of self-imposed exile.

If the former King Edward VII and his American duchess do pursue this course, a lot of Britons will be made glad. He was one of the most popular princes ever to come to the throne — Prince Charming they called him — and his abdication in order to marry America's Mrs. Wallis Simpson formed one of the unhappy chapters of the royal house.

The duke's mother, Dowager Queen Mary, is said by the star to be among those who have had most to do with his decision to return home. That is a most interesting item, for two reasons which might seem to contradict each other, but really don't:

One is that the bond of love between the aged mother and her first-born son always has been very great; the other is that this forceful woman, who is every inch a queen, is said to be among those who have censured the duke most severely for quitting his throne as he did.

If the queen mother is taking this changed attitude now, it strikes me that reason isn't hard to find. I had my headquarters in England for some 18 years as an AP correspondent, and watched the development of the prince of Wales towards kingship at close range. One of the most interesting aspects of it was the wonderful relationship between Queen Mary and the heir to the throne.

King George V was a kindly but rather tough disciplinarian,

PARISIAN CREATION — Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of French Ambassador, wears lampshade at rehearsal for Washington amateur hour of American Heart Association Feb. 2.

and perhaps naturally kept a stern eye on his successor to the rule of the world's greatest empire. Queen Mary very quietly used to act as a buffer between the king and the prince when things got too hot for the young man.

Transferred to Cambridge

For instance, there was the time when Wales got to enjoying himself so well as a student at Oxford that some tall tales got about. The reports didn't reach the king, but Queen Mary heard them and was fearful of his majesty's reaction if he did learn about them. So she mortored unannounced to Oxford and had a serious talk with her son. The upshot was that he was transferred to Cambridge forthwith.

However, he didn't stay long at Cambridge, for World War I broke and he joined the British forces in France. And a good soldier he was, too. He always wanted to get into the thick of things and the authorities had to be constantly on the alert to keep him from getting killed.

Edward always showed a great sense of responsibility. Moreover he was quite aware of the greatness of imperial majesty. He had started to learn of that from his great grandmother, the austere Queen Victoria, whom he worshipped as a tiny boy.

Wouldn't Like That

One is reminded of an incident when she died. Little Edward was greatly grieved and also was perurbed about what precedence she would be given in heaven. He asked his governess, who guessed that her late majesty would rank a little lower than the angels. Edward thought that over, and then:

"Well, I don't think grandma will like it at all, going in behind them."

Still, he himself abdicated for love. But a lot of water has run over the dam since fateful 1936. Time softens many hurts.

Queen Mother Mary is 82 years old and at this writing is bedridden with senility, a terribly painful malady. One suspects that this is a moment when she badly wants her much beloved first-born with her and so has beckoned for his return. Who would deny her that?

Boyle's Column

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(P)—The pushbutton war of the future may never come for a very simple reason—it doesn't hold much prospect of fun.

Wars in the past have offered exciting change from the humdrum of peace to a large part of the population.

The terror, boredom and danger of the front lines affected only a small proportion of the people. The civilians at home, unworried by fear of death, found the annoyances of rationing and higher taxes more than made up for by their enlarged sense of self-importance.

They were caught up by a thrilling feeling of unity that carried them out of their ordinary small frustrations. The factory worker became "the soldier behind the soldier at the front." Women found an escape from the petty world of household chores. They found they could hold a riveting machine as well as the next guy, and war opened to them a whole new round of social activities with a purpose—helping sell bonds, entertain at USO clubs, collect blood, roll bandages.

War Made Everyone Useful

Yes, war made everybody feel useful and necessary. And few saw the blood on the battlefields far away.

Recent wars have been less and less rewarding, however, for the men who actually carry the guns. In the old days victorious warriors looted towns and took their pick of the enemy's pretty womenfolk.

I wouldn't say this didn't happen on occasion in the last world war, but it was the exception rather than the rule. Our doughboys used to joke that the last thing the retreating Nazis did before pulling out of one of their cities was to stick up a sign saying: "Off limits to all Allied troops."

And one national scale victory has only brought more responsibility. As soon as you quit kicking a foe, you have to start lending him money, shipping him food, and rebuilding his homeland.

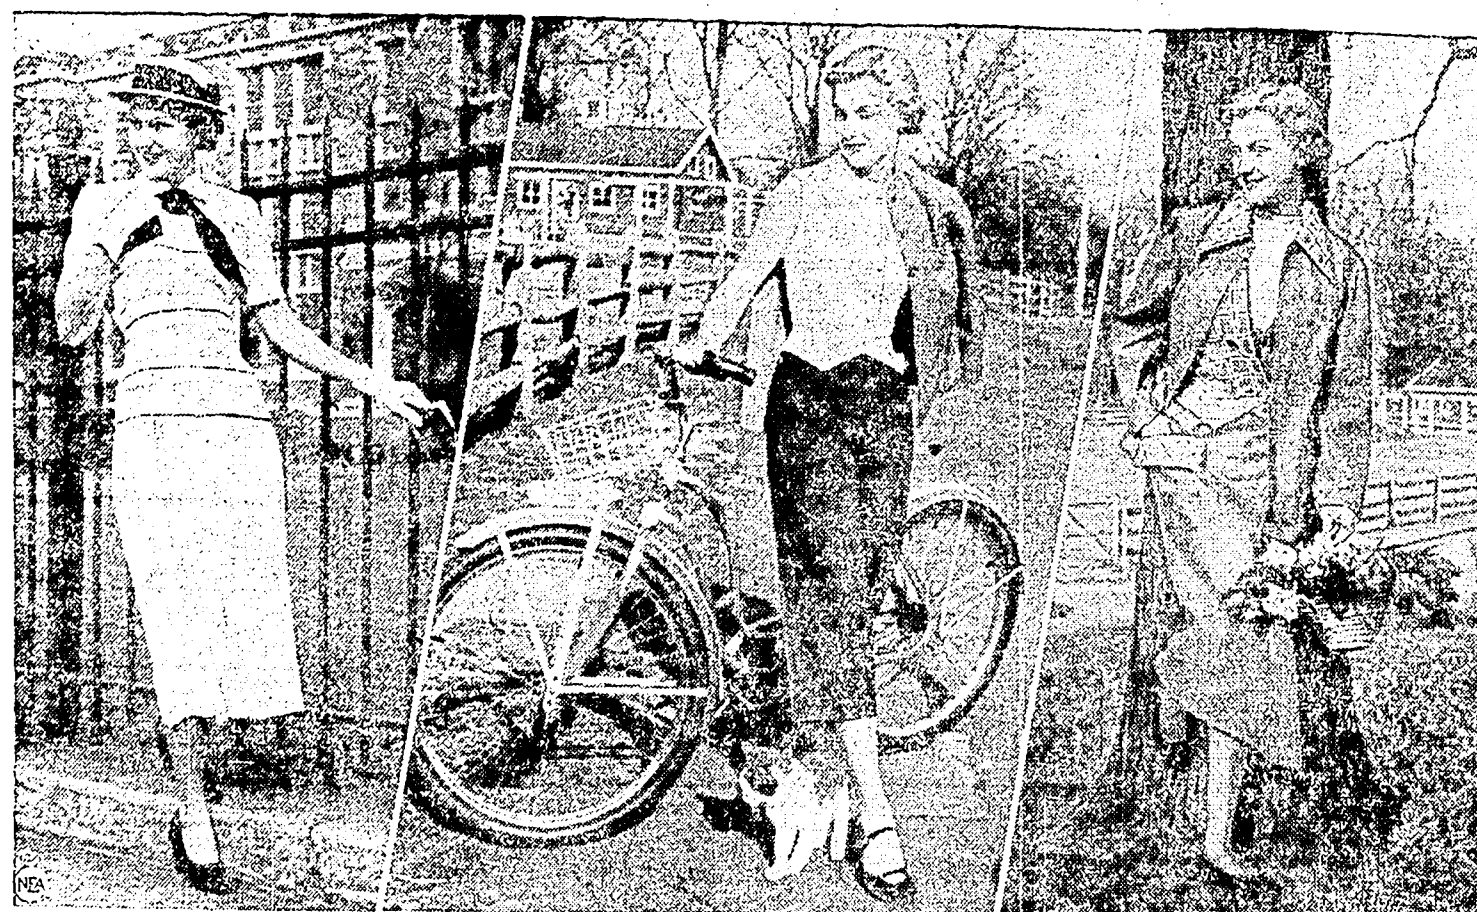

It seems to me that the development of the hydrogen bomb has squeezed the last small ounce of fun out of war.

We are in the twilight of the man-flown bomber and the finger pulled, rifle trigger. Military leaders warn we haven't reached the push button stage of war yet, but we will within 25 years.

Bravery No Good
Of what avail will bravery be then? It won't take a brave man to point an H-bomb at the enemy and send it whishing away in a pilotless rocket. The soldiers will be technicians, the generals will command armies of machines instead of men.

And what fun will there be for the civilian population? None. War will become a matter of population endurance, as each side waits for its cities to disappear. A great city is the harvest of millions of men over hundreds of years. Why burn up that long gain of culture and concrete in one tremendous flash of million-degree hydrogen heat?

If nations think this over—and there are signs they will—the H-bomb may turn out to be a great blessing. It will surely never be dropped if everybody

Typical of youthful styling of St. Louis-designed fashions is the two-piece middie dress (left) of blue gabardine. Narrow black stripes point up the sleek fit of the middie top and a black silk tie underscores a sailor collar. The sleeveless vestee of white pique and the green mandarin jacket which team up with navy pedal pushers (center) for active sportswear are adaptable to other wardrobe changes. A sporty plaid weskit and big plaid-trimmed hip pockets give the red denim suit (right) its jaunty look. The boxy jacket, which can also be worn tightly belted, has a plaid collar to match weskit and pockets.

FOR ASCENT WITHOUT A SCENT—Two air freight agents spray a deodorizing chemical on one of 20 Angora goats before their flight from New York to Poona, India. The goats, from a Sonora, Tex., farm, needed the deodorizing to insure their social position with the cargo plane's crew. The agents are Vera Mamarella of Flushing, holding a tight grip on the Angora, and Mary Glynn of Bayside, operating the sprayer.

ONE-YEAR FAMILY—Mrs. Thelma Gibbs, of Atlanta, Ga., sits with her twins, Jane and Wayne, born Jan. 16, 1949, and triplets, Lynda, Brenda and Glenda, born Nov. 5 the same year.

realizes that war is no longer fun for anybody, or profitable for anybody, but death or ruin for practically all.

Then peace can become the pleasant, neighborly thing it ought to be. It could even turn out to be fun.

"NO MORE UPSET STOMACH"

Do you suffer heartburn after meals?...feel logy?...uncomfortable?... Then read this heartening letter from a woman who found her way to better digestion and better health:

"Before switching to POSTUM I suffered both indigestion and nervousness... But now my nerves are quieted and my digestion much improved. No more upset stomach after drinking POSTUM!"

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffeine, and caffeine is a drug which in many persons tends to produce harmful stomach acidity, as well as nervousness and sleepless nights. So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others can't—and this may mean YOU!

MAKE THIS TEST: Give up coffee—give up tea—drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days—and judge by results! Remember: POSTUM contains no caffeine or other drug—nothing that can possibly cause indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness! Ask your grocer today for INSTANT POSTUM A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran. A Product of General Foods.

CINCINNATI HOMEMAKER SAYS:

"The first time I tried Kroger's Tenderay Beef was at my dinner party..."

Mrs. Irwin W. Taylor,
3015 Parkway Ave.,
Cincinnati, Ohio

10th ANNIVERSARY OF KROGER TENDERAY BEEF

"I wanted the tenderest beef I could find. A friend told me that Kroger's Tenderay Beef was always fresh and tender, so I tried it. That roast was deliciously fresh and tender... and every cut since has been equally tender."

Moons on Mars
Mars has two moons, Deimos and Phobos. The latter is so near to the planet that it revolves completely around it in 7 hours, 39 minutes. This is less than one-third the time of the planet's rotation on its axis; consequently, Phobos rises in the west and sets in the east.

If you had hayfever last summer, you had company. About 5,000,000 others in the United States suffered with it at the time.

Is the American housewife faster on her feet than her British cousin? That's what Mayor Chas. Light of Liberal, Kansas, is asking the vicar of Olney England, by trans-Atlantic telephone. Wives of the two cities will race against each other on Shrove Tuesday, Feb. 21, carrying pancakes over 415-yard courses set up in Liberal and Olney. The traditional flap-jack derby is in its 505th running in Olney, it's second in Liberal. Left to right: R. J. Leete; Joan Fretz, Pancake Day chairman; Mayor Light, and Ema gene Warden. Community News from Green Ridge

Mrs. Verna Palmer

The Rev. Reuben A. Torrey, D. D., will be the guest speaker at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church on Friday evening, February 10. Dr. Torrey is the son of the late Dr. Reuben Torrey, the well know evangelist. He visits the church under the auspices of the committee on United Promotions of the General Assembly. Dr. Torrey has been a missionary in India for a number of years and has done outstanding work there.

Auxiliary Unit 491 of the American Legion met in regular session on Monday night, January 23, at Bennett hall at Green Ridge. The president, Mrs. Clayton Hoover, presided over the meeting during which minor business matters were discussed. The unit voted to buy 200 poppies to sell in Green Ridge on the Saturday preceding Memorial Day.

After the meeting adjourned the hostesses Mrs. Royal Ragar and Mrs. Stuart Allen entertained with games and served refreshments following the games. Members present other than those previously mentioned were: Mrs. Homer Carter, Jr., Mrs. Mattie Myers, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. Quintin Binder, Mrs. W. F. Binder, Mrs. Wallace Bullard, Mrs. Howard Bell, Mrs. Luther Hoard and Mrs. Earl Embree.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Floyd of Jefferson City were week end guests in the home of Mrs. Floyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calvert. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. James Ardrey of Kansas City were dinner guests in the Calvert home. Mr. Forrest Calvert was an afternoon caller.

VOCAL DRUMMER
Two-year-old Claire Breen, enroute to Highland, Ind., adds a vocal accompaniment to her drum solo as she arrives in New York by plane from London.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Landis was the guest of honor at a surprise dinner on her birthday anniversary held at her home north of Green Ridge on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hachns, Sr., of Hughesville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McFarland and son J. W. of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoehns and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hachns and family of Pavillion, Wyoming, Mrs. Emily Hare and Miss Lena Wenig of Lincoln and the host Mrs. Cecil Landis' daughter, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hall and son, Ronald, of Sedalia spent the week-end recently as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Baslee and son, Rocky at Green Ridge. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Baslee entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. Baslee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hoard, who were celebrating their wedding anniversary. Guests other than those previously mentioned: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carter, Jr., and sons, Terry and Jimmy, and Mrs. Dewey Miller.

Donald Fiene, who is a student at Westminster college at Fulton has returned to Fulton after spending a few days visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fiene at their home northwest of Green Ridge. Donald is a member of the Westminster basketball traveling squad who have recently played games at Cape Girardeau, St. Louis, Jefferson City and Springfield.

Mrs. May Garrison of Industry, Ill., arrived in Green Ridge last week for a visit at the home of Mrs. Nellie Reed.

Miss Anna Lou Pace, who is an instructor in the schools of Kansas City, spent the week-end as a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pace of Green Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Neff returned to their home near Green Ridge last week, after a visit at the home of their son, Mrs. Din-zell Neff and Mrs. Neff in Denver, Colo. While in Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Neff visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carter, formerly of Windsor.

Leon Welbern, of Rocheport, Mo., has accepted a position with the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Green Ridge. Mr. Welbern joined the staff of the bank on February 1. He is a graduate of the New Franklin, Mo., high school and just recently completed a term of fifteen months' at Central Business College in Sedalia. Mr. Welbern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Welbern of Rocheport.

WHIPPING cream ahead of serving time? Add a teaspoon of dissolved, unflavored gelatin while you whip—and cream will stay high and light!

RECIPE
CHERRY CHIFFON PUDDING
1 Tbsp. gelatin
1/4 c. cold water
2 eggs, separated
1/2 c. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 c. hot milk
1/2 c. heated sour cherries, canned
1/4 tsp. almond extract

Soak gelatin in water. Heat milk in top of double boiler, add well-beaten egg yolks, 1/4 c. sugar, salt. Cook over hot water until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat, stir in gelatin. Chill until thick, beat smooth and fluffy. Add cherries, flavoring. Beat egg whites stiff, beat in 1/4 c. sugar, fold into custard mixture. Pour into six custard dishes, chill until firm. Top with whipped cream.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 out of 6 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

That's the reason Creamo Margarine was chosen by 5 out of 6 children in a hidden name test of bread-spreads. It's easy to understand why pure sweet cream makes Creamo more delicious and smoother, better spread. And because Creamo is the only margarine made with cream, it's easy to understand why more people, every day, are asking for Creamo Margarine. They know that Creamo's extra flavor means more delicious eating and greater economy, too, because the flavor goes farther. Especially in flavoring other foods, hot vegetable dishes and for baking and frying. You'll never know how extra delicious Creamo really is until you try it yourself, so be sure to get a pound of Creamo, today.

The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington.

These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time—this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision. Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed. A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.
